Deline and Pigden contest Reeve's chair

Tom Deline

Reeve Terry Pigden is competing in what many believe is a close race for re-election against challenger Tom Deline.

Both men have considerable experience on the village council. Deline spent seven years as Councillor, Deputy-Reeve and then Reeve until he resigned in 1981 when his business failed. Pigden was elected to council in 1979 and has twice been acclaimed Reeve for the village.

The campaign has become heated, with both parties taking credit for an impressive list of municipal projects and improvements. The most contentious issue is taxation, with both candidates claiming substantial reductions or savings over the other during their respective terms of office.

This war of figures is a confusing one as the opponents develop statistics from different bases. Pigden has been campaigning on the basis of tax dollars spent by the municipality, setting aside the portion which goes to the County and School Boards.

Deline is deriving his figures based on the overall tax load on the property owner, which includes the portion going to other jurisdictions.

Pigden, who is attempting to 'knock on every door in the village' told The Review that he feels his method of accounting 'reflects the taxes that the council has direct control over.'

Deline, on the other hand, feels that the municipal council not only has control over the local budget but 'has a strong influence on the County and the school board.' He believes that the 'dollar that comes out of your pocket' is the important factor on which to base performance statistics.

Both candidates propose many of the same village improvements if elected, including completion of water and sewer services, development of more recreational facilities, improved street lighting, solutions to the water supply and water tower problems, and encouragement of new residents and industries.

In addition, Pigden is campaigning to work toward environmental assessment approval for future waste disposal, new cemetery facilities and improved budgetary procedures. Deline wants to increase the base allowance for water use from 12 cubic

All-candidates meeting 'polite' and 'conservative'

by Lorry Kirkwood

Approximately 100 people were on hand to witness the Madoc Village All-Candidates Meeting at the Kiwanis Centre on October 30th.

It was, as the two candidates for Reeve described it, a 'polite' and 'very conservative' affair. In fact, even the rebuttals scheduled to take place after each five-minute speech were forgotten until the end of the meeting.

Chairman for the meeting was Tom Burnside. Mr. Burnside opened the meeting by asking all present 'to avoid personalities. We are dealing with issues here,' he said, 'and the welfare of the municipality where we all live.' This request was admirably well-taken throughout the proceedings.

The first speaker was Tom Deline, candidate for the office of Reeve, and the applause he received upon taking the podium was originated by his opponent Terry Pigden.

Using the program from his public letter, Deline elaborated on areas and projects he would support if elected. After reminding those present that his voice was but one of five on council, Deline spoke on topics including street and water and sewer development, increasing the base water allowance and reintroducing a six per cent reduction for prepayment of taxes.

Recreational development was also on Deline's list, and he stated he supported projects such as tennis courts, a swimming pool, and the proposed golf course, 'depending on whether it affects your tax dollar or whether we can obtain government grants for them.'

The use of tax dollars and the public's awareness of how tax dollars were being used was an area of concern for Deline. He proposed providing opportunity for the public to express their views and ask questions on any major bylaws that would cost the taxpayers money, because, Deline told the audience, 'You are the people that have to pay it. It only comes out of one place, and that's your pants' pocket.'

Referring to his previous years' of experience on council, Deline expressed a desire to promote the community, and ended with, 'I am open, I do listen, and I do care.'

Next up was incumbent Reeve Terry Pigden, who began with a quote from Winston Churchill: 'I have nothing to give but blood, sweat, toil and tears.' Many times, Pigden said, 'when I am tempted to promise great things to you, my fellow citizens, I remember those words, and I am humbled.'

Pigden pointed to the success of the council over the past term and attributed that success to wise use of tax dollars, to 'faithful, diligent and tireless' effort by council members, and to the patience and understanding of the Madoc community. 'I thank you.'

Pigden told the audience, 'for turning municipal burdens into municipal assets.'

As examples of this positive community influence, Pigden

New taxi on Madoc streets

They say it's almost impossible to get a taxi during rainy days and rush hours in New York City. Not so in Madoc, and it's getting easier all the time.

On October 29th with final approval granted by town council, the number of licensed taxis in Madoc rose from three to four - an effective increase of 33 per cent in available cab service in one day. You'll never see that in New York City.

The owner and operator of Madoc's newest cab service is Bert Taylor. After a letter of proposal to council about a month ago, and a brief presentation at the most recent council meeting, Taylor's business took to the road Monday, Nov. 4th.

Taylor lives on Prince Albert Street and says he can answer a village call within two or three minutes. He started his taxi because he felt the added service was needed in Madoc, especially after 8 p.m. and in the early morning hours.

In granting Taylor his licence, the Madoc Village Council concurred with this view. As one council member put it, 'it's almost impossible to get a taxi in the later hours.'

Perhaps Madoc is a bit like New York, after all. But have no fear.

Taylor plans to run his taxi full-time and will, therefore, be available 24 hours a day. His green and brown 1979 Lemans Pontiac station wagon now joins the rest of the Madoc fleet at your service.

There are four licensed taxi services currently operating in Madoc. Don Ash, for whom Taylor drove for six months, has been in business for 22 years. Mike Quinn, who caters especially - but not exclusively - to senior citizens, has held a taxi licence for four years. Howard Turney has been a licensed driver for two years.

Madoc's taxi bylaw allows for two taxis according to present population, but the number can be increased, as was done in Taylor's case, by council resolution. Once granted, taxi licences must be renewed each calendar year at a cost of $20 - $15 going to the Village of Madoc and $5 to the Ministry of Transportation and Communication. The cost of any additional automobile insurance must also be taken into account.

Standard taxi fares for Madoc are $2 within the village and $1 per mile outside of town.

Just for the record, the fare from Madoc to New York City runs only about $400 even during rainy days and rush hours.

No fireworks at Huntingdon All-candidates meeting

An All-Candidates night held at Huntingdon Township Hall on October 29th was a relatively some of the more well-travelled roads. We have about 25 miles of roads that need surface treat-fire at our place I was paid a hundred fold for that time.

A new challenger,

have to even more now.

Marylea Burt opened with the statement that 'schools are in business to serve children, and the responsibility lies with the community to see that this is done.' She noted that different sectors of the community had different expectations: parents want the best possible education, taxpayers are concerned with money spent, employers want useful skills to be taught and the community as a whole expects the schools to produce responsible citizens. On the question of Catholic School Funding she noted that the effects have not all been studied but they may be serious. 'Trustees must have experience and background to deal with the difficult times ahead.'

There were some questions from the floor regarding the new zoning by-laws and concerning the Gypsy Moth infestations that are approaching the Township.

'There's no use hiding our heads in the sand over this,' Kramp said. 'As a former police officer I know the problems exist, and that liquor is available to young people whether we have licensed restaurants or not.'

Licensing means control and I'm advocating further control of a situation that already exists.'

reserved affair, with more controversy arising from the floor than from the political contestants.

Ten hopeful politicians, all but Reeve Glen Franks running against competition for election, made short speeches and answered a limited number of questions from the floor. About 50 Township residents turned out for the event.

Reeve Franks started off with a brief summary of the last term, listing the several pieces of new equipment that the Township has been able to purchase using available grants. He was especially proud of the number of people they were able to hire on a part time basis to build some of the projects. 'It's rewarding to see the money coming back into the community,' he said.

Incumbent Deputy Reeve Walton Reid noted that he was 'no stranger' to most of the audience since he has lived within sight of the Township Hall all of his life. He said that he has 'enjoyed the job and I'm looking forward to another 3 years.'

Reid has taken on many different jobs for the Township, including much of the maintenance on the Hall itself. He feels he has got along well with the Council in the decision-making process. Some issues haven't been nice to deal with but we have worked together and handled them anyway.'

Opposing Reid for Deputy-Reeve is Councillor Owen Ketcheson, who called Reid 'a friend and well-qualified for the job.' He went on to stress that he would like to have the opportunity to serve in a higher capacity. One of his main platforms is to use newly purchased road working equipment to start surfacing-ment,' he said. 'We can reduce road maintenance and save money by gradually improving them.' He listed a number of other improvements that he feels should be addressed in the future if funds become available.

Councillor Ken Yarrow spoke next. 'We have five people on our council in order to get diverse qualifications and interests,' he said. 'It's good to see new people taking an interest in the township and the politics of the township.' He took pride in the achievements of the council up to date and said that he hopes to be able to serve in the future. He also feels that more construction activity will take place in the Township as the money and new equipment had been worked out.

Another newcomer to the political arena, Bill Allen, said, 'I'm not a farmer, and I wasn't born here... but that doesn't mean I'm not concerned about the tax dollar.' He is not worried about the tax dollar.

Having two counties working together like this is unusual.

Teachers hold Federation Day

BY ART GOUGH

A recent Federation Day was sponsored by three federations and two counties.

OSSTF (Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation), FWTAO (Federation of Women Teachers of Ontario) and OPS (Ontario Public School Teachers Federation) applied for, planned and executed the arrangements for Federation Day. The three organizations mentioned above from Prince Edward County joined with us to produce this day.

The organizing committee itself represents a model in co-operation as representatives from all the federations met many times prior to the actual day, planning and preparing. Few realize the hours that go into planning and then securing workshop leaders, speakers, sites and communication to members.

When one thinks of the size of the two counties stretching from Maple Leaf, north of Bancroft, to the south end of the Bay of Quinte, east to

Jest for Fun'

Quinte area children won't want to miss a single performance of Belleville's popular 'Jest for Fun' series. This year's entertainment package offers everything from toe-tappin', hand-clappin', jug band music to the bittersweet classic fairy tales.

The series begins in November with Tangiefoot's presentation of 'Igg's Pig'. Audiences should be prepared to be held spellbound as delightful songs and stories about animals, sailing ships and trips to the moon unfold before their very eyes.

December's show introduces the irresistible and original author-storyteller Robert Munsch who captivates audiences with his highly animated facial expressions and exaggerated sound effects.

Kids can sit back and be entertained for an hour of sheer musical mastery with a flair for the humorous and a touch of the silly thrown in for good measure.

Eric Nagler will have them singing and dancing in the aisles as he 'Fiddles Up a Tune' in his January 18th performance.

In February Lampoon Puppet-theatre will combine the genres of puppet-

Jones was born in Prince Edward County and grew up in Belleville. Following High School, she took her Bachelor's Degree in Nursing Science at Queen's University and found work as head of the Victorian Order of Nurses in Collingwood.

She later taught at the Belleville General Hospital School of Nursing and worked as a staff nurse at Prince Edward Memorial Hospital. She joined the Health Unit shortly after it was formed in 1966, as a Public Health Nurse. She covered the Stirling, Rawdon, and Trenton areas and was in charge of the health care and records for 18 rural schools.

She became a Supervisor with the Health Unit in 1977.

As Director of Nursing she will be responsible for direction and implementation of nursing programs with a staff of 43 full and part time nurses in five offices.

"I come from Prince Edward County, grew up in Belleville and live in Stirling," she said. "It will be an advantage to have had experience in most places that the Health Unit operates."

Lifetime Huntingdon resident Dennis Downey has picked up the challenge and is running for councillor in the Township.

Downey has a background in farming, spent 14 years in industrial management, and operates a logging and lumber operation at his farm on the 10th Concession, where he lives with his wife, Rose, and three daughters. "Now that I'm self-employed I have time to spend on township business," said the first-time candidate. "I'd like to offer my past experience and help to the community."

One of his main concerns is with environmental issues, particularly the protection and management of forest resources. "It may sound strange coming from a person in the lumber business," he says, "but I'm interested in saving the bush land in Huntingdon. I'm an environmentalist. He believes that the woodlands are a resource that people should be able to pass on to their children and illustrates how it is possible to harvest trees while conserving the woodlot area. He stresses that he uses every possible part of the trees he cuts to avoid waste and leave the environment clean.

He also supports the improvement of roads in the Township.

"I'm not making a lot of election promises," he said in a recent interview, "but I'm interested in saving the bush land in Huntingdon. I'm an environmentalist. Harrop seeks Council seat

Crichton Harrop has been a teacher at Centre Hastings Secondary School since 1968 and a resident of Madoc since 1972. A familiar face in the village, Harrop is well known for leading student bicycle trips to England in recent years.

'I've always believed that citizens should take responsibility for work in the community,' he told The Review, 'and this is my opportunity.'

He is confident that his years of experience as a teacher and in the organization of sporting organizations have gained him important skills for working with the municipal Council.

Harrop has worked in the olympic movement to prepare Canada's team for international competition and has been a central figure in the Ontario Cycling Association. 'I have organizational experience and have dealt with governments and government agencies,' he said.

He feels that dealing with other levels of government would be one of his strongest points. 'They own the rule book,' he emphasized, 'and we have to learn the rules. We have to be able to understand the language of government bureaucracies and deal with them on their own terms.'

At the same time, he is confident in his teaching background as a basis for communicating the intentions of government agencies to the average person on the street. 'There are a lot of misunderstandings and communications problems between municipal councils and big government organizations. I would be interested in finding out exactly what some of the programs offered mean to the community.'

His background in education would help him research all the aspects of council decisions. 'Research is important. I teach and know research - it helps to make better decisions. Poor decisions are made in haste.'

Harrop's particular concerns are for developing the community's residential base as industry grows in the Belleville area. 'We know what our problems are right now - what we need is a long term plan for future development before new problems develop. New development will add security for the business people in the village and increase the tax base.'

Harrop feels he would most of all be a careful decision maker. 'I don't like to argue, I like to ask questions, get the information and make an educated decision.'

Hall tries for Council

Retired clergyman John Hall has thrown his hat into the ring for Madoc Village Council, competing with three others for the position.

Hall was born in Madoc, the son of a clergyman, and moved about much of his life, first with his family and then later when he became a minister himself. He was with the R.C.A.F. in the second war.

Hall has been involved in many community projects since then, and is especially proud of his establishment of the Block Parent program in the village.

Golf raffle winner

The Madoc and District Golf Course Study Group held a fund raising raffle on October 31st.

The winner of $ 500 cash was Bill Love of Madoc, who held ticket number 429.

The committee netted about $500 which will be used to help pay for a feasibility study on the golf course proposal. Tenders for engineering companies have been sent out and the committee expects to receive bids on the project soon.

75% of the cost of the study may be paid by the Ontario Government and the local group is raising the remaining 25%. Spokesman Bruce McNevin was unable to put a figure on the cost of the study as no tenders have come in as yet.

Bird feeders installed at Fabeth

The residents of Fabeth Nursing Home on Bursthall Street can now enjoy the sights and sounds of birds dining at two bird feeders installed last Wednesday morning.

The feeders were built and installed by special works program employees of the Crowe Valley Conservation Authority.

Elizabeth Horvath, part-owner of the residence, says the feeders will be a real topic of conversation for the residents and will provide exercise for some who will be maintaining them.

"Nature is generally very close to the hearts of senior ci-zens," says Elizabeth. She adds that many of her residents are from farms.

Janet Holmes, who is the Life Enrichment Co-ordinator at Fabeth, initiated the idea.

ASK YOUR PHARMACIST

by Barry Phillips, B.Sc. Phm.

Community Pharmacist

Most of us suffer from headaches, fever and sore muscles at one time or another. For relief, our usual reaction is to reach for a couple of ASA tablets in the medicine chest. However automatic this practice becomes, it still pays to stop and think about the potential risks of ASA use, especially for small children.

According to the Journal of the American Pharmaceutical Association, salicylates (the base for Canada's most used headache tablets) are involved in more accidental poisonings in children under five than any other single drug or household product.

In 1983, Canadian Poison Control Centres reported 8,057 cases of ASA poisoning. Almost half involved children four years of age and younger. Thankfully, there wasn't a single death caused by ASA poisoning and the number of cases has dropped since the introduction of child-proof closures.

However, as few as 10 tablets can cause very serious harm to a child weighing 23 kg (about 45 pounds) or less. Overdose and accidental poisoning sometimes result from giving youngsters adult ASA tablets rather than the children's type.

Safety is the most important reason for giving children's ASA to youngsters, not just because it tastes good and is easily swallowed. The dosage is adjusted for children, whereas adult tablets can cause serious illness in small bodies.

If you suspect ASA poisoning, call your local Poison Information Centre or family doctor. For immediate emergency treatment of an overdose, whether in a child of adult, use Syrup of Ipecac. Inexpensive and available in most drug stores, it is an invaluable remedy for not only ASA poisoning, but for some other drugs as well. In case of ASA poisoning, a child should be given one tablespoon as soon as possible. For an adult, the dosage is two tablespoons.

If you have any questions about children's or adult's ASA, ask your pharmacist. He or she is a trained professional who will gladly dispense expert advice to help you enjoy good health.

Annette Olive, Tweed

All-candidates meeting quiet and informative

Cont'd from page 1 noted the Madoc Softball Association and their handling of the Madoc Ball Park, the assistance provided by Danford's in selecting a loader and garbage truck for the village, and local residents who have given the village first opportunity to purchase land for future industrial or residential expansion. Pidgen also thanked the village staff and the firemen for their tireless efforts.

In closing his speech, Pidgen said, Madoc has an important role to play in the development of our county, in the development of our province, in the development of our nation. I ask you to help me to continue to make the voice of Madoc heard in Hastings County.

The two candidates for Reeve have spoken; the floor was opened for questions. The first issue of concern was the purchase by the Village of the garbage truck and the loader. It was alleged that the loader and garbage truck were obsolete, and difficult to get parts for.

Mr. Pidgen replied that parts had been purchased for the loader, but we had no problem getting the parts, and as far as I know right now, that loader is working A-1.

The next audience member addressed the issue of controlled development plans for the Madoc area over the next four or five years, in light of future developments such as the proposed Toyota plant in Belleville.

I'm a promoter, responded Deline. I'd be going after as much of that override as I could possibly get, keeping in mind the taxpayers and the tax dollars. As Reeve, I would tend to support development, based on what it's going to cost out of our tax coffers.

Pidgen's reply to the question was, The development has already begun. He pointed to new houses, development of the downtown core, and said, The municipality has undertaken to get an option on 65 acres in the west end of the village of Madoc for future residential and industrial expansion. The decision to purchase will be left to the next council.

We've been minding the shop, said Pidgen, and I think that it has paid off. It (Madoc) is quite an active little place.

Immediately

following the question period, a moment of silence was observed in memory of 'Buck' Carswell, whose passing in September left one of the village council seats vacant. As chairman Burnside said, 'Buck' would have 'gloried in a meeting such as this.'

The candidates for councillors took the floor, with John Hall kicking things off.

He stated he would make only one promise: To do all in my power to work for the welfare and the advancement - whatever that might be - of this lovely village that I truly love.

Hall expressed satisfaction with the Block Parent Program he helped to organize in Madoc. There is much to be done in this village, he said, and I have chosen to run for council to use it as an instrument and a channel for looking to the future.

I do have a lack of experience in community matters, began the next candidate, Crichton Harrop, but I believe I can rise to the occasion and offer this community honest hard work to serve you. He sees Madoc developing successfully into a 'bedroom community' for workers from outside areas.

Harrop placed an emphasis on communication and felt that his skills in the areas of listening, researching, reading, and writing, along with his experience in dealing with local projects and government departments, would be valuable assets he could bring to the Village Council if elected.

Incumbent Counsellor Lynda Matchett spoke next. My four years' of experience on Village Council, I hope, speak for themselves, she said. She mentioned her activities on various Boards of Directors and committees in Madoc, and also mentioned the Municipal Clerk's Course she is taking in Peterborough to be better able to understand what goes on and what we can and can't do in council. In finishing, she said, I would pretty much just like to ask you for your support on election day.

The final candidate's speech came from incumbent Counsellor Jim Watson. Through running his own business, Watson learned the fine line between loss and profit. Thus, with a proposal such as the local golf course, he felt that careful feasibility studies and committees were necessary, but it certainly would be nice if it could be made to work.

Watson praised the Village employees and their work performance. He closed saying, A vote for Jim Watson is a vote for efficiency, for continuity, for a successful council.

The floor was again opened, and the question posed was, Is there a long-range plan in Madoc for improvements, for town roads, water and sewer, and if so, what is it?

The response was handled by acclaimed Deputy Reeve T.C. Barton: We have this town planned now. I can assure you our water and sewer is very close. We have the plan practically on line. In 1986, if you haven't got water, I'll have to resign.

To this, incumbent Reeve Pidgen added that council had retained an engineering firm whose plans could go through changes over the next few months, but their schedule would call for completion of most of the areas in

'86. Brief presentations were then made by the acclaimed members of Madoc's municipal government: T.C. Barton, Deputy-Reeve; Doug Pidgen and Frank Varley, Hydro Commission; and Tom Burnside, Board of Education.

At this point, an ominous cream pie surfaced in the back of the room, but no one was seriously threatened. Perhaps inspired by the pie, the forgotten rebuttals were then remembered and called for.

No rebuttals were forwarded, but incumbent Councillor

Jim Watson took the podium and spoke highly of all the candidates, sympathizing with the difficult decisions facing the voters.

Reeve candidate Deline then added a few final words. I'm a human being, he said. I have made mistakes and I do learn from my mistakes. Also, I am very capable of working with any member of the new council.

With no further questions or responses, the meeting was closed and the candidates mingled with the audience.

After the meeting, Deline expressed a slight disappointment that more wasn't brought out into the open during the meeting. He said he would simply meet as many people and answer as many questions as possible. I'm still the best promoter, he said.

Incumbent Reeve Pidgen said he would continue to meet people and visit those who were not at home when he went around, and that he would 'just hope that people remember me on election day.'

Canada Savings Bonds... questions and answers

WHAT IF I LOSE MY BONDS? CSBs COMING DUE

Three issues of Canada Savings Bonds - Series 28, Series 31 and Series 33 - come due this year, worth more than $3.3 billion in principal. If you own any of these bonds, you will want to cash them in. After Nov. 1, 1985, they do not earn any further interest.

CSB CASH BONUS

Two of the three Canada Savings Bond issues coming due this Nov. 1 - Series 28 and Series 31 - mark the end of an era as the last of the 'old style' coupon bonds. These bonds pay a cash bonus at redemption - $482.70 for every $1,000 bond of Series 28 and $356.90 for every $1,000 bond of Series 31.

LOST YOUR CSBs?

Your Canada Savings Bonds are valuable documents and should be kept in a safe place such as a safety deposit box. But if they are lost or stolen, don't worry. You can get them back by notifying the Bank of Canada.

The bonds will be replaced after a prescribed waiting period by completing a Bond of Indemnity. Be sure to provide details of the series, bond numbers and exact registration of the missing bonds.

NOME CHANGE If you change your name - due to marriage, divorce, legal change of name, etc. - you are not required to change the registration on your Canada Savings Bonds, although when it comes time to cash the bond in, you'll probably find it simpler if you have done so.

If you decide to change the regis-tron on your bonds to your new name, simply notify your bank, trust company or credit union. They'll tell you what must be done in order to have replacements issued.

CSB DENOMINATIONS

Canada Savings Bonds come in two forms - Compound Interest Bonds and Regular Interest Bonds. Compound Interest Bonds are sold in denominations as low as $100. Other denominations include $300, $500, $1,000, $5,000, and $10,000. Regular Interest Bonds are sold in the same denomination starting at $300.

BUYING CSBs

There are two ways to buy Canada Savings Bonds - in instalments on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work and for cash where you bank or invest.

In recent years, cash sales have been restricted to the two weeks around Nov. 1 - although sales may be cut off at any time at the discretion of the Minister of Finance.

PAYOUT SAVINGS PLAN

More than a million Canadians made use of the Payroll Savings Plan last year to buy Canada Savings Bonds and have come to regard it as a simple, safe, almost painless way to meet their savings goals. More than 10,000 companies and institutions across Canada offer this plan to their employees. They consider it an important fringe benefit.

WHO CAN BUY CSBs?

Canada Savings Bonds are available for sale to Canadian residents and certifying trusts such as registered retirement saving plans.

CAN'T TRANSFER CSBs

Canada Savings Bonds cannot be transferred to another individual during the lifetime of the registered owner. In the event of death, the estate representative should get in touch with a financial institution or one of the Bank of Canada's agencies to find out how the bonds can be transferred. Agencies are located in Halifax, Saint John, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, and Vancouver.

CSB INTEREST

Buyers of Regular Interest Canada Savings Bonds have the option of having their annual interest payments deposited directly into their savings or chequing accounts.

All you do have to do is complete the appropriate area on the purchase application form or fill out a direct deposit agreement. Your bank or trust company will do the rest. You must do this every time you buy CSBs if you want to receive your interest this way.

CSB VALUES

If you're not sure how much your Canada Savings Bonds are worth, go to the financial institution where you bought them and ask for a Canada Savings Bond Value Table or an Information for Bondholders Booklet.

CASHING CSBs

You don't need to cash in your Canada Savings Bond if you only need part of the money. You can exchange them for others of smaller denominations - as long as they are of the same series. Just give your CSB to your bank, trust company or credit union - they'll take it from there. This exchange may take some time to complete, so make sure you initiate the process well before you need the cash.

CSB RECORD

Always keep a separate record of your Canada Savings Bond holdings. Your list should include the complete bond numbers and exact name in which each of the bonds is registered.

This way if your bonds are ever lost or stolen, you'll have the information required to replace them.

BUYING CSBs You don't have to provide your Social Insurance Number when buying Canada Savings Bonds. But if you do, it becomes a unique CSB reference number that's easy for you to remember.

It can also be a big help if your bonds are lost, stolen, or destroyed. That's an added form of security for you.

It's also a good idea to always use the same registration when buying CSBs.

Christmas mail

Canada Post announced recently a two-cent discount on postage for Christmas cards mailed to destinations within Canada. Special stamps packaged in bookletlets of ten will sell for $3.20 and will be available for general sale at all postal outlets on November 4. The 1985 Christmas Value Pack is the first part of a long term plan that will provide additional postage savings in future years.

As a result of a cooperative effort with members of the Gift Packaging and Greeting Card Association of Canada, the Corporation will propose, for Christmas 1986, a five-cent reduction on postage. This special rate will be available to users of greeting card envelopes which will bear a printed matrix on which the postal code must be ticked.

The plan will be monitored closely to assess its impact on public acceptance, mail volumes and processing efficiency.

ers next year, constitutes a considerable improvement over the concept that was tested in eight cities last Christmas.

This long term plan will offer Canadians a substantial reduction in their postage costs during the holiday season, while contributing to Canada Post's efforts to process the large volumes of mail received during Christmas more efficiently, says Mr. J.R. Taylor, Vice-President, Marketing and Sales.

We welcome the opportunity to cooperate with Canada Post in encouraging the tradition of sending holiday greetings, as well as helping to reduce postage costs at Christmas for the Canadian public, said Richard Cairns, Chairman, Gift Packaging and Greeting Card Association.

1985 Madoc Softball wrap-up

BY ROSANNE CHAPMAN

Another successful season at the Madoc Ball Park was enjoyed by a large number of people. This season was very busy, as the diamond was scheduled six nights a week.

We hosted several successful tournaments. The Minute Men have always organized an entertaining tourney with fine fastball teams participating and this, in turn, draws good crowds. This year, the Madoc Junior Team became greatly involved in helping out with jobs which have to be done to make a tourney a success.

For the last three years Madoc has had the privilege of hosting an OASA Tournament. This year we were given the Midget Tourney. This involves a lot of organizing and planning, months ahead, to ensure that everything runs smoothly. Our Midget Boys made a good representation, by winning two games and losing two.

The Fun League Ladies' Tourney, the Men's League Play-off Tourney were also held in Madoc.

To end the season on a good note, a slow pitch tourney was held. This tourney was run in correspondence with Swing '85, which is run by the government.

Proceeds are distributed to help the mentally handicapped. Madoc provided $500 to our Adult Day Care Center and another $500 to Swing '85. Next year we hope this tourney will be just as successful as everyone had a good time and it was held for a good cause.

Our minor ball was also a success this year, having teams from beginners to midget. Uniforms and equipment were provided to make minor ball enjoyable and fun for the young people. The Bantam Boys' team won their zone championship to entitle them to go to the OASA Bantam D Tourney, which was held in Springbrook. The boys won one game and lost two. With the Bantam Boys winning the OASA Championship in 1984, the Junior Boys provided Madoc with a championship for 1985. The Juniors proved themselves by winning the OASA Junior 'D' Tourney which was held in Claremont. They also came away with two of the trophies. This was a big year for this team as it will likely be the last year for most of these boys to play together as a team. As everyone is aware of, an addition was added to the canteen. This addition was necessary to meet the increasing volume of people who make good use of the ball park each summer; it will also increase the revenue which will, in turn, provide more improvements to the park for better playing conditions and convenience for everyone. The association would like to thank everyone who helped in any way in time and money to make 1985 season a success. To all the coaches and managers, your help was greatly appreciated and we hope more people will get involved next season - more hands make lighter work.

Madoc Midgets win

Madoc Midgets played Stirling in exhibition play on October 28, and came home 6-4 winners.

Stirling held a 1-0 lead at the end of one period on a goal by D. Brownson from Walton and Thompson. Madoc scored at 13:17 of the second for their first. Goal was scored by Dan Powell from Troy Melvin. Madoc's second goal came from Larry Bird and Scott Chapman to tie the score at two at the end of two.

Period three saw Madoc double the score on Stirling and go ahead to win the game 6-4. Three of these goals were scored in the last five minutes of the game.

At 8:44, Dan Powell scored his second of the game. Assist went to Dave Denison. At 4:57, Troy Melvin combined for goal six.

Atoms tie against Colborne

Madoc Atoms saw a 5-1 lead at the end of two go by the boards and were forced to score two late in the third to earn a 7-7 tie against Colborne.

Tom Burnside scored his first of the year on an assist from Dave Hobson to tie the game at one.

In the second, Madoc netted four unanswered goals to go into a 5-1 lead. Goals were scored by Tim Bailey unassisted; Brad Phillips from Bailey and Robert Tokley; Todd Matthews from Glenn Meeks; and Chad Bateman unassisted.

In the third, Colborne scored six goals by the 5:29 mark to go into a 7-5 lead. At 4:26, B. Phillips scored his second of the game from Tom Burnside and 42 seconds later D. Bailey scored the equalizer. His second of the game from S. Tracey and T. Burnside.

The Atoms have three points on the year with one win and a tie. Next home game is November 16, at 12:30, against Frankford.

Bantams come from behind

Belleville jumped into an early first period lead by three unanswered goals to force the Madoc Bantams to play come-from-behind hockey.

In the second, at the 7:21 mark, Derek Chapman scored his first of two to put Madoc on the board. This goal was set up by Brian Forestell and Trevor McTaggart.

This was the way the score remained until 3:09 of the third when Derek scored his second, assisted again by McTaggart.

Thirty-nine seconds later this line combined for goal number three and the equalizer. This time the marksman was Brian Forestell, assisted by McTaggart and Chapman.

Election profile...Pigden challenges Deputy-Reeve.

Mary Pigden was born and raised in Madoc Township at Eldorado where she was active in the life of the community. She attended Rupert's School and later graduated from Madoc High School.

During the war she moved to many parts of the country with her husband, who was serving with the Royal Canadian Air Force. She feels that this experience helps her appreciate her home township and to communicate with newcomers to the municipality.

It was her involvement with the community that made her determined to be the first woman councillor in Madoc Township. She has been on the Township Council for five years and is pleased with the respect she has gained with fellow councillors and the surrounding communities.

Pigden has served on the Library Board and worked toward making the Madoc Village board into a multi-municipality board with responsibility shared by four municipalities. She is also on the Medical Centre Board and was instrumental in negotiating the retirement of the Centre's long-living debt.

She is also responsible for a personal touch - creating fewer beds at the Township Hall.

She is proud of the way the community has worked together to create a recreation centre at little cost to the taxpayer and also of the part service clubs like the Legion played in assisting with the project.

Pigden acted as chairman of the Township Cairn Committee, which had a memorial cairn built at the Madoc Township School this year.

She believes that she has distinguished herself in her ability to 'stand up and be counted' as a member of the municipal government, when others may have been hesitant to speak out.

Tweed resident John Hutt feels that Centre Hastings lacks facilities and programs for the rehabilitation of former psychiatric patients. The recreational and social activities that exist in Belleville are too far away for most area people who would like to become involved, so they are missing out.

Hutt has received very favourable responses from area professionals, including Paula Buskard of the Health Unit and

Dr. Ann Fales, a Psychologist doing counselling work with people going through the difficult period of re-building their lives after a psychiatric illness.

Hutt points out that people in this position often have many problems, such as family breakdowns, employment difficulties and loneliness, that could be worked out in a sympathetic environment.

Election profile...Bill Allen seeks Huntingdon seat

I want to become more involved in decision making," says Bill Allen, a new candidate for Huntingdon Township Council.

Allen lives on the Crookston Road with his wife Brenda and one young son. The energetic salesman has lived in the community for the last six years and has been very active in community programs, including sporting events and the former Madoc Kinsmen Club.

He is a Captain with the Huntingdon Volunteer Fire Department and has spent 5 1/2 years with the firefighters.

His chief area of interest is with long term planning, especially of township roads. He would like to see a study done on the benefits of hard-topping some heavily used roads. "I think a study would show that we can save money in the long term," he said.

He notes that the population has increased by about 400 people in the last 5 years, most of them commuters to Belleville and elsewhere. These people are using the roads more and more and hard surfacing will not only decrease costs to the township but make it more attractive to newcomers.

He promises to support every effort made to protect township woodlot owners against the spread of the Gypsy Moth. "We should be working with neighbouring municipalities to establish an effective program to fight it," he said in a recent interview.

He would like to further efforts to expand and offer more recreational activities in the township. "He would be interested in investigating the CNR right-of-way through the township in terms of utilizing it for recreational activities like skiing and snowmobiling."

One of his chief areas of interest is with the Fire Department. "As a member of the Fire Department, I think that council must recognize the importance of upgrading equipment. The taxpayers deserve the best fire protection their tax dollars can buy." He believes strongly that a strong 'first attack' is the critical factor in firefighting and that the township needs more portable pumping equipment to increase its 'first attack' capabilities.

The grand finale of the series takes place on March 22nd when Inner Stage presents the eternal story of the boy who refused to grow up. Through the techniques of transformation and the lyrical beauty of the dance, two acts and a whirlwind of acrobatics portray the beloved characters of 'Peter Pan'.

*Election profile...Ken Yarrow goes for re-election

Ken Yarrow has been an active participant in community life since he came to Huntingdon Township 20 years ago.

With a background in construction mechanics and mining, Yarrow now farms a flock of 100 sheep as a sideline to his full time occupation as a mental retardation councilor with ARC Industries in Campbellford. He lives on the 10th Concession with his wife Eva. They have three married children and 7 grandchildren.

More active and younger looking than most grandfathers, Yarrow holds busy positions with many organizations. He is Past-President of the Madoc Agricultural Society, Past Noble Grand of the Oddfellows, Vice-President of the Hastings Federation of Agriculture, Clerk of Session for St. Peter's Church in Madoc, has served on the Madoc Arena Board and has been Huntingdon Council's representative to the Lower Trent River Conservation Authority for 2 years.

He became a member of the Township Council 5 years ago. 'I had a desire to know what was going on and how things are done,' he says. 'If you don't know how and why things get done there's no use complaining about them.'

He was a key supporter of the new Zoning By-Law and supports it as a valuable asset to the community. He feels that it may be a small inconvenience to some but is a very important protection.

for everyone against uncontrolled development.

Yarrow expresses concern for two important environmental issues: community waste disposal plans, and the Gypsy Moth infestations.

He would like to see more pressure put on the Province to investigate the possibility of an incinerator and recycling plant for wastes instead of another multi-municipality landfill site. 'I think we may be going to do something that will be a liability down the road,' he says. 'I don't want to be blamed for a problem that comes up 50 or 100 years from now.'

The Gypsy Moth is a really serious problem, it is on the north edge of the Township and south in the Oak Hills area. It may seem dormant right at the moment but the eggs are laid and will be hatching next spring. He is committed to working with surrounding municipalities and the county to organize the fight against the pest and also plans to work with the Federation of Agriculture on the problem.

Yarrow is also known for articles that he has written concerning the new Ontario 'spills bill'. He feels a need to speak out about the legislation because of its importance to all citizens and implications to farmers in particular.

*Election profile...Harris seeks re-election

Incumbent Deputy Reeve Harold Harris is campaigning to keep his seat on Madoc Township Council against challenger Mary Pigden.

Harris was born in Madoc Township and lives on the family dairy farm with his wife Pauline and their four children. He has been active on the Township Council for many years, the past six years as Deputy Reeve.

He has served on the Madoc Arena Board, as representative to the Moira River Conservation Authority and on its Water Management Advisory Board. He is a Past-President of the Madoc Agricultural Society, Past-President of the Madoc Junior Farmers and Past Provincial Director of the Hastings County Junior Farmers. He is a graduate of the Kemptville Agricultural College and also served as a director of the Madoc Co-Op.

One of his prime areas of interest is in promoting new industry in the Township such as Godfrey Growers and Blue Giant. He feels that new residents and industries should be encouraged.

He is seriously concerned, through his participation in the M.R.C.A., with the Gypsy Moth infestations which have begun in the Township. 'I am aware how serious the problem can be,' he said in an interview with The Review. 'I would put it high on my list of things to take immediate action on.'

'Roads also continue to be very important for me and I would like to see our programs of maintenance and improvement continue,' he said. He also supports in principle the possibility of having a new Township Hall in the future. He feels that the Township could dispose of some properties that it has no interest in and use the funds to finance such a project.

'Most of all, I want to see that tax dollars are used fairly and that the taxpayer gets the best value possible,' he said.

Deline is especially concerned with establishing the 5-year planning system. 'How do you know where you're going without a plan,' he said. 'I'm a promoter of things. I know how important planning is.'

Pigden emphasizes the fiscal area. 'I was the voice of restraint on council,' he said, 'but my main accomplishments are from my years as Reeve.' 'The only way to reduce taxes is not to do anything,' Deline fired already.

counters. 'I like to feel that I have proven myself as being aware of the tax burden. I would like to emphasize that I will listen, I care, and want to help the community.'

Both candidates are confident in success, although the battle lines have been drawn and some well-aimed shots fired already.

Historical Society award winner... Genealogy

by Angela Paranuk

Searching out my genealogy was more interesting than I thought it would be when I started out²¹ learned so many interesting things. For instance, my great-great grandfather was a clock and watchmaker in Scotland.

I started out by going to visit my grandma, my Mom's Mom. First she got out a big box of old pictures. Rumaging through them, we found photos of my great grandparents and great-great grandparents.

Then Grandma thought of a precious silver locket she had in her jewellery box upstairs. It was her mother's which contained pictures of her grandparents who lived in Scotland and whom Grandma has never seen, other than in those photos. She carefully removed the small oval pictures and offered them to me to use in my family tree book.

Since my Mom realized these pictures could never be replaced if they were lost she decided I should use a photocopy of them for my book. We then carefully replaced the photos in the old locket and put it back in its safekeeping.

My grandmother told me that her mother, Elizabeth Paul, came to Canada in 1906 when she was only 18 years old.

This country was referred to as 'the Land of Gold' a title which lured many young adults from overseas. When she left home wearing her silver locket at that young age, it was the last time she saw her parents.

She never returned to her homeland. She settled in Winnipeg, Manitoba, and after she married she lived in Saskatchewan, where my grandma was born. They later moved to Ontario, to stay.

Grandma had some family records in her attic which we then proceeded to go through. It was in these records that I discovered that the gentleman in the locket was the clock and watchmaker.

It was also here that I learned of the French and Irish in my background. My grandfather's grandparents, both named Francis, the DeMarsh's, were born and raised in France.

However, my great-grandparents, the Foleys emigrated to Canada from Ireland.

To learn more about my dad's ancestors, I talked to his parents. Grandma Paranuk was a big help.

The Paranuk's came from Romania as young adults. They met each other in Canada and were married in Montreal. With them they brought many customs from their home country. One of these was to make a huge kettle of cabbage rolls every Christmas.

My grandma has learned the recipe well and carries on the tradition. Every year besides the aroma of turkey and dressing the tempting smell of these cabbage rolls greet us when we arrive at Grandma's.

The leftovers are sliced and fried to be eaten with toast, the next morning and boy are they good!

It was only this summer when Grandma came out for a piece of my sister's birthday cake on July 4th, that she suddenly remembered that my great-grandma Paranuk's birthday was also on July 4th.

I plan to continue adding to my book as the years unfold. I'm going to include a history of my Aunts, Uncles and Cousins, since the information is now readily available.

All three CDHS girls basketball teams defeat Clarke

All three Campbellford and District High School girls basketball teams defeated their counterparts from Clarke in action last week.

The midget girls recorded their first victory of the season in an exciting, closely-played game. Campbellford took the early lead and continued to lead by three points at the half. Clarke outscored the local girls in the third quarter, managing to tie the score on several occasions. With less than two minutes remaining to be played, the score was knotted at twenty-seven. Uniting effort allowed the locals to score five points to gain the 32-27 victory.

Outstanding team defence won the game. Candy Lee played especially well.

Clarke visits Campbellford this week and the rematch should be entertaining to say the least.

Scorers for Campbellford were Wendy Godden (19 points), Michelle O'Leary (seven points), Lynn Philips (four points), and Barb Ashford (two points).

JUNIORS NOW 4-0
The juniors displayed outstanding poise in a come-from-behind victory at Clarke on Tuesday of last week.

The team trailed till the middle of the third quarter when

Hammer Gananoque 17-2

The MTM Hurricanes upped their winning record to 6-0, this Sunday, in Madoc. Fresh off a 15-0 stoning of Brighton, the Hurricanes racked up another incredible 15-goal bulge in trouncing the Gananoque G-Men 17-2.

Once again, speed and tenacity won it for the home team. Mike Matuszek, netminder for the Hurricanes, managed to stay awake for the entire game, and made several unbelievable saves when called upon.

the guards took the ball away from the competition, repeatedly for lay-up opportunities.

Colleen Philp then took control of the game with six straight points to give Campbellford all the cushion they need for a 36-22 final score.

Player of the week award goes to Colleen Philp for her aggressive rebounding and scoring and to Amber Cook for her great offensive and defensive hustle. The juniors are in undisputed control of first place in their league with their perfect 4-0 record.

SENIORS WIN 20-18

Following very close defeats to AA schools, the senior girls basketball team defeated Clarke High School 20-18 in last week's South Kawartha League action. Coach Ron Fischl was pleased with the concentration and effort put forth in the game.

Scorers for Campbellford were Michelle Collins with eight points, Jennifer Lush with four points, Karen Elliott with four points, Marie Austin with two points and Jennifer Petherick with two points.

MTM Hurricanes undefeated after six

The referee called a very tight game and the numerous 5-on-5 and 4-on-4 situations opened the ice, much to the Hurricanes' advantage.

Gananoque's starting goaltender played a solid first period, holding the Hurricanes to just one goal. That came at 9:38 off the stick of captain Tom Clement after some aggressive digging by Eric Brinks.

Despite many hard shots from the point, open rebounds, and a definite advantage in play, the Hurricanes had to settle for a 1-0 lead after one period. Only 58 seconds into the second period, Jeff Wannamaker tallied for the Hurricanes on the forechecking of Pete Mulroney and Scott Foley. Then, at 6:17, Brinks made good on a low, hard shot from the point to put the Hurricanes up 3-0.

Play opened up and became somewhat ragged through the early part of the second. Gananoque seemed to be gaining ground and, at 6:51, a shot from the point, with the Hurricanes' defensive zone wall LaRiviere put Gananoque on the board. Just over a minute later, however, Clement, using Brinks as a decoy on a 2-on-1 break, slapped home the second of what would be six goals for him. With the score 4-1, Gananoque's momentum was suddenly gone, and the floodgates opened.

The Hurricanes struck for six goals, with markers going to Wannamaker, Desjardins, Barry Smith on a pretty 2-on-2 rush with Clement, Troy Ward and Clement, who notched his third and fourth goals only six seconds apart.

The teams went to the dressing rooms with the score 10-1. The third period was a formality, but there was still plenty of scoring to come. Play turned scrambly again to begin the third, and MacNeil scored for Gananoque seven minutes in. Then it was all Hurricanes.

Foley and Desjardins scored, and Clement and Mulroney got two more goals apiece. Troy Ward netted the Hurricanes' 17th with 1:22 to play, but not before some Gananoque supporters were waving the white towel, and the Gananoque coach was wearing his coat over his head to avoid the carnage.

The game's first star went to Tom Clement with the double hat trick. Second star was Pete Mulroney, and Barry Smith gathered in the third selection honors.

Next home game (please note: the schedule has been revised) is an 8:30 start, Tuesday, November 12, against Brighton.

FRAN NAPPER GETS FIRST ACE

Fran Napper of Campbellford got her 1st Hole in One at the Warkworth Golf on the Par 3 4th Hole on Tuesday, Oct. 29, 1985. She was playing with Mabel Wellard of Warkworth. Fran's husband, Merv, got an Ace on the Hole on Tuesday, July 9, 1985. It is not often that a husband and wife will get a Hole in One in the same year.

Marmora bantams beat Coburton

Marmora Bantams met Coburton on home ice Friday night and came away with an 8-2 victory. Marmora took an early lead in the first and came out with a 2-0 score. Goals were executed by Kevin Doyle, assisted by Troy Bertrand, and Stephen Pascoe assisted by Jeff Clemens.

In an exciting

second period, Coburton picked up two goals but Marmora widened the lead, driving in five goals. Tim Cassidy led off with the first goal of the period assisted by Kevin Doyle. Stephen Pascoe picked up his second goal assisted by Matt Cuddy and Troy Bertrand. Tony Martin shot in the next goal assisted by Stephen Bedore. Matt Cuddy racked the fourth assisted by Russ Broadbent and Stephen Pascoe. With three seconds left in the period, Russ Broadbent banged one in assisted by Stephen Pascoe.

Going into the third, both teams played a tight defense, but late in the period Troy Bertrand scored the only goal assisted by Stephen Pascoe.

Very often a golfer plays all his life and never achieves a hole in one. Others have several. But, generally speaking, holes in one are a rare occurrence and worth recording for posterity.

Marmora Bantams are playing great hockey, especially this early in the season. Paul Ramsperger is on his toes. Let's keep it going boys!!!

Carsafety

If road conditions are normal and your brakes are reasonably good, it will take you about 87 metres to stop from 100 km/h (268 feet to stop from 60 mph). If you can only see clearly 60 metres (200 feet) ahead, you might as well be driving blindfolded. The Ontario Safety League reminds you that your stopping distance is longer if the road is slippery, if your brakes are poor, or if you are not in good physical condition.

It's National 4H Week

John Wise, Federal Minister of Agriculture has proclaimed November 4 to 10 as National 4-H Week, coinciding with the launching of a new Public Service Announcement campaign for 4-H across Canada. The focus is on increasing public awareness of 4-H, which has evolved from an agriculture-centred youth club into a sophisticated program promoting responsible citizenship, leadership, social awareness and independence through achievement in skill-development projects.

At the same time, the basic concept of encouraging young people to 'learn to do by doing' has been maintained. In Ontario, credit goes to the five thousand leaders from all walks of life who share their time and expertise in co-ordinating local 4-H groups. This week, the 20,000 4-H members in Ontario will take every opportunity to say a simple thank you to their club leaders. What My 4-H Leader Means To Me was the topic of a recent essay competition in Ontario. The winning essays will be displayed at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair.

At the regional, provincial, and national level, 4-H achievers continue to learn and grow by participating in workshops, conferences, camps, travel exchanges and in vying for valuable scholarships. In the International Youth Year, additional opportunities were presented to 4-H members. Members took their share of the honours at Youth Recognition Banquets held across the province and in receiving Canada Youth Day Awards on July 1.

Without a doubt, more and more businesses and individuals are choosing to ensure a secure social and economic future by investing in the development of young people who show an interest in that future and in determining its course.

National 4-H Week highlights the unique opportunity 4-H represents today, the chance for boys and girls growing up in our communities to develop their potential. These young people will someday thread their way through the entire social fabric of Canada, in rural and urban settings.

Managing your money

BY HARRY L. MARDON

It's high time for Canadians to do some smart end-of-year tax planning.

There are certain things which you should do before the close of 1985 or you will expose yourself to unnecessary taxes. For example, if you are engaged to become married some time in 1986, bringing the wedding forward to late December, 1985, probably will provide you with a substantial immediate tax benefit.

Several other tax-saving opportunities are also available, provided you take advantage of them before Dec. 31. Here are some of them:

People who own their companies may want to take a dividend out of the company's earnings, or pension payments.

Unincorporated business people may want to make salary or bonus payments to a spouse or child who has done some genuine work for the business during 1985.

If you are contemplating setting up your own unincorporated business before the end of 1985, keep in mind that you don't have to establish your fiscal year as the calendar year. Consult a qualified accountant before you make a decision.

People who turn 65 next year should be thinking about getting their $1,000 a year pension income tax exemption. You qualify for this exemption in the year you reach age 65, so you can buy an annuity or a Registered Retirement Income Fund at the outset of 1986. You don't have to wait until you actually turn 65.

If you are already the owner of a Registered Retirement Income Fund, you should make an election before the year-end on how much income you want to draw from your RRIF during 1986. You can increase or decrease the amount of money you take out of your RRIF investment. This election opportunity is only a once-a-year thing.

Owners of a Registered Retirement Savings Plan (RRSP), who reach age 71 during 1985 must do something about their plan before the end of this year. If they don't make a move before the Dec. 31 deadline, their RRSP will be automatically "dere-registered" at the beginning of 1986 and therefore their plan will be exposed to full taxation.

People who want to take advantage of the tax-sheltering provided by a RRSP should buy one as soon as possible before the year-end. It's true that you can delay purchase of a RRSP until the end of next February, and still apply the tax advantage to your 1985 Income Tax Return. However, the sooner you buy a plan, the better results you will get in terms of investment growth.

Owners of a Registered Home Ownership Savings Plan (RHOSP) must collapse their plan at the end of 1985. That's because the federal budget of last May abolished the RHOSP tax shelter. However, you are not compelled to spend the money you've accumulated in your RHOSP on purchase of a home. You can spend on anything you wish. Quebec residents should consult their financial counsellor.

Owners of an investment which qualifies for special tax treatment under Ottawa's Indexed Security Investment Plan (ISIP) legislation should realize this tax concession on Dec. 31. The May Budget abolished the ISIP program which was originally designed to shelter a lot of the capital gains from an investment from taxation. Consult a professional financial planner on what may be your best move.

Credit problems continue to plague Ontario farmers

One of the scarcest commodities in rural Ontario today is time and it's already run out for too many of the province's farmers, says Harry Pelissero, president of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture.

Pelissero was among 75 farm leaders from across the country who were in Ottawa recently to urge the federal government to take

ing Our Future' and National 4-H Volunteer Leaders Conference with its theme 'Creative Leadership-Today's Challenge will be the spotlight activities to celebrate the week. Seven 4-H members and five 4-H leaders from Ontario will be delegates to these conferences at the Royal York Hotel in Toronto, including Peter Doris of Peterborough County.

Thanks to 4-H, to them, 'learning' and 'doing' will have become second nature.

action to ease the farm crisis in Canada.

'We are looking for a commitment from the government to deal with the major issues facing agriculture today. So far, we have not been satisfied with their efforts, especially in the area of farm credit.'

The government should introduce legislation to allow the courts to step in and make arrangements between a farmer facing foreclosure and the lending institution, suggested Pelissero.

President Don Knoerr. The escalating trade war between the United States and the European Community is robbing Canadian farmers of traditional markets, he added.

Farmers also want assurances that vital agricultural programs, such as supply management, marketing boards, the Canadian Wheat Board, and seasonal horticultural tariffs won't be bargained away when Canada sits down to negotiate a free trade deal with the U.S.

Emergency relief policies to cope with farm disasters, such as the drought that struck prairie grain and livestock producers this summer, are urgently required, the CFA told the government.

Woods, Water and Wildlife

SINGLETON
Federation of Ontario Naturalists

Whirling and twirling in a visual jungle, little flocks suddenly appear in the garden. They add zest and frivolity - while all else is seriousness, amid the rush to prepare for winter. Flashing tail-fans of slate-grey and stark-white, these characters flit from low branches to lawn and garden. Then, back again. Strange little twitters, warbles and even soft trills punctuate autumn's rustle.

Slate-colored juncos, now enroute south, are among the many living components which enrich Ontario's landscape. Seen by everyone and easily attracted, they reveal a fascinating life history to those who really look.

Juncos' paint-by-number appearance - dark grey head, body, wings and tail, contrasting with stark-white belly and outermost tail feathers - make this sparrow-sized bird unmistakable. In contrast with the male's near-black appearance, females are pale - almost dusky - and usually have a grey feather separating slate from white. The vast numbers of progeny accompanying the adults are tinged with brown - the females especially so.

The adults have spent the summer distributed throughout the boreal and mixed forests of the Canadian Shield, busily raising two broods. Favoring edges and openings, juncos establish rather large territories - up to 50 acres depending upon habitat.

Within this territory, they seek out a protected nook on the ground in which to nest. Sometimes it's beneath the 'skirt' of conifer branches or other vegetation brushing the ground. More often, it's in the crannies of wind-thrown tree roots or the eroded base of an old hillside stump. Within this shelter, the juncos build a beautiful cup, in two parts. The outer is woven of rootlets and grasses, while the inner is a lining of the finest of grasses, mosses and bits of hair-gathered from throughout the territory.

Each brood of 4-6 whitish or blueish eggs takes about 11 days of incubation, in which both parents take turns. The fast-growing progeny feed voraciously upon the steady stream of insects and seeds gathered by the parents. The inordinate protein required by early growth - the chicks will multiply their weight perhaps five times in the first month - is met by the abundant supply of caterpillars and other insects. As summer wears on, adults and young become increasingly dependant upon weed seeds, their main food. This is but one reason that juncos are steadfastly protected by Canadian law.

Huge quantities of weed seeds - among them, ragweed and crabgrass - are picked from the forest and meadow floors. The characteristic, scratch...scratch...scratch...peck...as juncos scatter the overlying leaf duff to expose seeds below.

Cued by shortening daylight, and accelerated by early snowfall, juncos congregate into small flocks - usually 15-100 birds. During peak migration, a stream of such flocks follow each other. Southward, they continue until adequate seed material will be available throughout winter. For a few, this will be as close as southern Ontario; the rest will spread through the U.S., as far south as the Gulf.

During migration, juncos are easily attracted by fine grains - like millet, oats or wheat scattered on the ground. Unlike jays, finches and other popular visitors, juncos almost never use raised platform feeders. Simply scattering a handful or two of fine seed on the ground or snow will provide excellent viewing opportunities, waylaying hungry migrants for 1-3 days (depending upon weather). In the more southerly areas - particularly near the Great Lakes - many juncos will 'set up shop' to spend the winter near feeders.

Alarmed during feeding - even by an innocently passing pedestrian - juncos take to the wing in a twirling confusion, all uttering snapping-sounding chips. Like the action of many fish schools, this confusion makes it more difficult for predators to catch any of the flock's occupants.

Enjoy the juncos which will soon stream through - it will be (shiver) April before their number return to restate their territories.

Vitamins are good for your pet

Do you remember your mother telling you to take your vitamins because they're good for you? Well, mother was right! Vitamins help the body function properly and help to protect the body from disease. Vitamins not only play an important role in human nutrition but also in animal nutrition and health.

Commercial pet foods, which are certified by the Canadian Veterinary Medical Association Pet Food Program, contain all the essential vitamins to meet your pet's needs. Pet foods which do not state that they are complete should be supplemented with vitamins and minerals. Supplements are also needed by animals whose diet is predominately table scraps. However, feeding table scraps is a practice which is not recommended by veterinarians because such a diet is unbalanced.

Some of the essential vitamins, their sources and problems resulting from an insufficient amount of vitamins are listed below.

Retinol (Vitamin A) helps to keep the skin, eyes, bones and teeth healthy. It is vital for normal growth in young animals. It has also been found to improve night vision. Vitamin A deficiency results in abnormal bone growth and night blindness. Vitamin A is obtained primarily from salt-water fish and green foods.

Vitamin D is essential for the growth of bones and teeth. Vitamin D deficiency can result in rickets which causes enlargement of the joints and mishapen bones. It is derived from fish-liver oils and from animal liver in general.

Finally, Vitamin E is a substance which is capable of inhibiting certain enzymes which can damage normal body tissues. Deficiency in this vitamin can result in muscular disorders, diminished fertility and can cause yellow fat disease in cats, which is a condition that makes movement very painful. Vitamin E is obtained from green foods, vegetable oils and animal fat.

These vitamins are an essential part of any animal's diet.

Meal replacements not a healthy way to lose

Products promoted for weight loss have been the subject of some concern; in the late 1970's there were a number of deaths in the U.S. and one in Canada attributed to the use of liquid protein diets or protein-sparing fasts. People on these diets literally starved to death, and this could happen on any very low energy diet, regardless of its composition. Even if there is adequate protein, a source of carbohydrate, and vitamin and mineral supplementation, the body still needs sufficient energy to function.

WHAT IS A MEAL REPLACEMENT?

A meal replacement is a product that is designed to replace or substitute for a meal. There are over 100 such products available throughout Canada; they are usually sold as powder to be mixed with milk, as a ready-to-serve beverage, or as a bar or biscuit. Some meal replacements feature a specific ingredient such as a herb, or perhaps a mixture of herbs, or bee pollen or aloe vera; these specific ingredients are NOT responsible for weight loss, however.

LAW TO PROTECT THE CONSUMER

To ensure that meal replacements provide a balanced content of macronutrients, and to prevent the sale of 'protein' products or products that are really candy bars with vitamins added, the Food and Drug Regulations specify a minimum and maximum level of protein, and a maximum fat level. The amount of sugar is restricted to a percentage of the total carbohydrate in the product.

A meal replacement is likely to meet the requirements of the Food and Drug Regulation if:

- it provides at least 225 kilocalories per meal and 900 kilocalories per day whether used alone or with a meal plan;

- it carries the statement that a reduced energy intake is responsible for weight loss;

- it specifies the nutrients contained per 100 grams and per serving when prepared according to directions;

-it makes no claim about extraordinary weight loss (more than one kg a week) or about the effectiveness of certain ingredients such as bee pollen or other substances, or about the ability to prevent or treat disease;

- it has a menu plan that contains at least one serving from each of the four food groups, each day.

In recent studies comparing marijuana and tobacco, greater amounts of the irritants ammonia, hydrocyanic acid, acrolein, and benzene were found in the marijuana cigarettes. Polynuclear aromatic hydrocarbons (PAH) formed during the incomplete combustion of organic matter are found in both tobacco and marijuana smoke. Compared with tobacco, marijuana produces a smoke that contains a higher concentration of PAH, including 50% more of the cancer causing agents benzene and benzanthracene, which are known to produce tumors, including lung tumors in rats. It is interesting, says Dr. Moore, that a recent study revealed that almost all the young people who were asked for their spontaneous recall of the effects of marijuana mentioned negative effects.

Bannockburn drilling almost complete

GEOLOGIST ROY BEAVON examines a piece of drill core brought up from hundreds of feet under the 'Bannockburn Prospect'. A Vancouver-based mining company, Mono Gold Mines, is finding very encouraging amounts of the precious mineral on parts of the 500 acre property surrounding Bannockburn.

New store owner in Eldorado

From the outside, it must have looked decades ago; it is not the kind of place one would expect to find new people or new ideas.

But there is some body new behind the counter of the community grocery store in Eldorado, a pleasant, smiling person named Rhonda Davis. Rhonda and her husband, Scott, purchased the store from Francis Bosley and took over the operation on October 15th.

Bosley operated the store for the last 8 years until he decided to retire from the business. 'At least he says he's retired,' says Rhonda Davis, 'he still comes over and helps out.'

Davis appreciates the help, too, because this is the first time she has tried to run a grocery store and she's doing it in a community that is entirely new to her as well. Davis has been living in Cambridge, Ontario and communi-

Parade organizing...

The Madoc Santa Claus Parade committee is busy preparing for the annual parade to be held on Sunday, November 24th at 2:00 PM.

The Chamber of Commerce sponsored committee is actively seeking participants to enter floats and bands or march in the parade, which will leave from Bert Jones and Pigden Motors dealership lots on Russell St. The route depends on the weather and will be announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus will be at the Kiwanis Centre following the parade to visit with the children and give out gifts, pop and hot dogs to anyone wishing to interview Claus on the subject of being good and deserving the presents they're asking for this year.

Carol-Ann Kramp, spokesperson for the parade committee, is eager for volunteers, floats and especially bands. 'I'm trying to get as many floats as I can, but we need more bands,' she told The Review. Many of the bands which have performed in the past have been booked for other events already.

Response from the business community has been good. 'Donations to the Santa Claus Parade have been really super,' Kramp said. 'There is a lot of work to be done between now and Nov. 24th and she would like to hear from anyone interested in participating at 473-4268.

After almost 100 years of quiet, the forests surrounding Bannockburn may resound again to the echoes of men and machinery mining for gold.

Diamond drilling being carried out by Mono Gold Mines Inc. of Vancouver on the 'Bannockburn Prospect' is almost complete, and the results of the testing point out the need for an underground program of exploration and development, according to a report filed with the company by consultant geologist Roy Beavon.

Beavon Consulting Limited has been overseeing the exploration project on the 500 acre property since last May. During that time over 34 holes, ranging in depth from 100 to well over 400 feet in depth have been drilled, producing cylinders of rock (cores) that have been carefully analyzed for their gold content.

Inspection of the almost 10,000 feet of cores has revealed some very favourable results for the company, indicating veins of gold-bearing rock in quantities that may well justify commercial mining on the site.

The most probable spot for an underground exploration program is in the north-east part of the property, about 1/2 mile from the hamlet of Bannockburn. Beavon hopes to complete his drilling in this area once a flooded section has frozen over well enough to support the portable drilling rig. Until then he is finishing explorations on the western part of the property, not far from the mine operated in the last century. Gold traces are being found in this area too, although not yet in the quantities located at the north-east prospect.

Once the ice-covered area has been sampled, Beavon will probably recommend that a gradually-sloping shaft be excavated into the gold-producing rock. 'Eventually one has to go underground and take a look,' he said in an interview last week.

Pollock barn ready

Little more than three months after their disastrous fire, Bill and Marlene Pollock will have a new barn on the family farm in Huntingdon Township.

The fire, on August 11th, entirely destroyed the barn on Mariblview Farm, only days after the couple purchased the property from Ted Pollock. Only the silos were left standing and the Pollock's were faced with running their dairy operation without milking equipment, hay or straw.

The farming community in Centre Hastings swung into action. Within days, family, friends, and neighbours had the Pollock's back in business. A temporary milking room was set up in their machinery shed; hay and straw were donated and trucked to the farm.

The ruins of the barn smoldered for six days and the Pollocks began to rebuild. Again friends and neighbors donated time, labour and materials to assist them in getting the construction completed as fast as possible.

Ted Pollock has been 'straw boss' during the barn-building project while Marlene and his father Ted kept the dairy farming operation going.

They expect to have the new building complete by Nov. 23 but will be holding a 'Grand Opening' and a barn dance as scheduled on Saturday, Nov. 16th.

When finished the Pollocks will have a large, modern barn with many labour saving conveniences. The new building is 36' X 138', wood frame with steel sheathing. The poured concrete floors have built-in drainage and manure handling facilities. There will be 43, 4X6 steel tie-up stalls serviced with water and a milk pipeline system, as well as maternity stalls and calf areas.

The new building also features feed preparation rooms and a new milk room with office. Fortunately, with the silos

Eldorado UCW

Tuesday, Nov. 5, Eldorado UCW met in Eldorado United Church. President Lois Blackburn opened the meeting with a reading about Mary and Martha. Each served God in a different way. We are all different but if we link arms, share ideas, the reward will be great.

Wolf Cub Michael Baxter is getting ready for the 'Kub Kar Rally' to be held at CHSS on Nov. 16th. Cubs and their dads build the fastest possible cars from a simple kit and will compete for prizes on a special race track.

Kub Kar Rally

Saturday, November 16th is the date set for the annual Kub Kar Rally, sponsored by Moira District Wolf Cubs and Boy Scouts.

Wolf cubs and their fathers start off with a small block of pine wood, four nails to use as axles and four wheels. From this basic kit they design and build a model car to be raced on a special track set up at Centre Hastings Secondary School on Saturday.

There are rules about maximum height, weight, etc. but otherwise the boys and their fathers can use their skill and imagination freely to come up with the fastest possible vehicle.

They race three at a time in an elimination series until the overall winner is chosen. Prizes will also be given for best looking cars, fastest cub car and fastest father-built car.

The public is welcome and invited to attend the event. In the past as many as 400 people have turned out at the annual race, to be held at the CHSS gym from 1PM to 4PM.

Editorial

The other victims of war...

'Remembrance Day' has passed again. 'Lest we forget' is the phrase that sounds at thousands of assemblies all over the western world as people take a moment to remember... to remember friends, family... distant images of men who died, many years ago, in the prime of their lives, in the agony we call war.

Here, in North America especially, most of us associate Remembrance Day with the loss of men... of soldiers, fliers, sailors... who died in uniform, fighting in battle under their flag. I think there are some other people we should be remembering as well, people who, while not entirely ignored, have faded even further into the misty past than our men at arms.

To remember these people is, in my opinion, at least as important to our future as the memory of the unknown soldier. There were far more of them than soldiers killed in the world wars... the unknown civilians.

The factory worker at his lathe, killed by a bomb in Hamburg. The young mother incinerated in the ruins of her apartment in London. The grandfather and his wife caught in the inferno of Dresden. The mother and her child gassed in the hell-hole of Auschwitz. The doctor machinegunned in the streets of Amsterdam. The schoolboy vapourized at play in Hiroshima.

These things didn't happen here in Canada. Those who lived here during world conflicts did not experience the terror of death in their own homes, towns and cities. But many more in the countries of conflict faced this terror than faced the terror of the trenches or the flak-filled skies.

It is this massive loss of life that we must also remember, and consider, when we think about the future of war in this world, because if there is another war on a global scale, the millions killed in previous wars will be like a drop in the bucket, a mere hint of what was to come.

Relatively speaking, very few soldiers will die in such a war. They will not have a chance to participate, there won't be time. The servicemen who fight that war won't be carrying weapons, they will be engineers, hundreds of feet underground or under water operating sophisticated computerized systems. Perhaps - an ironic thought - the last humans to breathe on this earth will be soldiers, locked in underground shelters unable to emerge into a blackened and deadly atmosphere.

Those who gave their lives in war, fighting for their homelands, must not be forgotten, for theirs was a noble cause, and no noble causes to guide our lives in this world.

Those who had their lives taken, en masse as the innocent victims of war, must not be forgotten either, for they represent the future, the war that would end all life in this world.

Setting a stake by compass in the bush west of Bannockburn. Roy Beavon locates the point where a portable drilling rig will sink its diamond bit into the rock.

Underground shaft may be started in Bannockburn

which are about 1 1/2 inches in diameter, reveal little about the actual quantities of gold that may exist. Unless the prospector is very lucky, the drill may easily miss an important concentration of the valuable mineral. The drilling is likened to trying to find a small object in a snowbank by randomly thrusting with a stick.

Creation of a shaft into the rock would reveal large quantities of material for analysis and at the same time produce commercial ore. It is likely that such a program would eventually pay for itself and could be justified for that reason alone,' Beavon's report reads.

Prospecting on the property has been a very methodical and scientific procedure. Beavon, who has a Ph.D. in Geology and has been working continuously in the field for twenty-five years, first laid out a grid marked by stakes throughout the wooded property.

Then soil samples are taken with an auger from each point on the grid and sent to a laboratory in Toronto for analysis. Where the soil samples show an 'anomaly', unusual amounts of gold or gold-associated minerals, that site is selected for drilling.

A portable drilling platform, operated by McKnight Drilling of Haileyborough, Ontario, is positioned over the site and drilling commences. The diamond drill bites into the granite and chert rock producing as much as 16 feet of rock core per hour.

The cores are then inspected and logged by Beavon and likely samples sent to Lakefield, Ontario, for assaying. The remaining cores are sent to the core library of the Ministry of Natural Resources in Tweed.

At the same time Beavon uses the cores to 'map' the underground geology; trying to visualize the underground structures in the rock that might give a clue to the location of more gold-rich minerals.

'A mine is a funny thing,' Beavon said, 'it's like scoring a goal in hockey - near misses don't count. Some companies hit the post', but that isn't good enough.'

He is careful to point out that modern mining companies do not operate on hopes and good luck. To undertake the heavy capital expense of setting up an operating mine, the company must know what their reserves of minerals are.

'Mines are not found, they're made,' Beavon said.

mills ready for operation in the next few days, the Pollocks will be able to house and feeds their livestock as soon as the new building is closed in.

Bill Pollock sees the light at the end of the tunnel now and is looking forward to getting things back to normal. 'It's been hectic,' he said, 'but we've managed.'

The Pollocks forwarded a letter to The Madoc Review recently, expressing the gratitude they feel toward their family, friends and neighbours for their support and understanding after the fire:

'Production on our dairy farm has continued due to the assistance of these willing workers. We have felt a little discouraged several times since buying our farm on August 1st and losing our barn on August 11th. It is always during one of these periods that a friend drops in to lend a hand or even just to chat.

The kindness shown to us will long be remembered, and friends will always be welcome to visit Marbilview Farm. The 'Grand Opening' and 'Barn Dance' just a small expression of our appreciation to all who helped us.'

THE NEW BARN on the Pollock farm north east of Stirling is almost complete, just 3 months after the original one burned to the ground. The new barn is steel-sided and has modern dairy equipment built in.

THE GRAND JUNCTION RAILWAY
by Nick and Helma Mika

The Grand Junction Railway, chartered in 1852, was built between Belleville and Peterborough via Stirling in the 1870's. Designed as a vital link in the grain route from the Georgian Bay to the St. Lawrence River and the Atlantic seaboard, it eventually included a feeder line into the mineral rich district of northern Hastings County. Soon after its completion, the Grand Junction was swallowed up first by the Midland Railway and then by the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada.

New management at Eldorado Store

ing to Mississauga, where she worked in medical research for a pharmaceutical company.

small hobby farm in Ivanhoe five years ago, hoping to retire there eventually - but then something happened. While helping friends look for real estate in the area they discovered the Eldorado store for sale and fell in love with the idea of operating a community grocery store.

They rented the Ivanhoe property and Rhonda Davis moved into the residence above the store. Scott still commutes to Toronto on a weekly basis until they can call Eldorado their permanent retirement home.

Davis does not plan any major changes for the store, she is leaving the interior much as it was, adding a few lines of goods to fill out the stock and bringing in some lower-priced items in order to keep the store an economical place to shop.

For such a small store it has a very wide and diverse stock. She refers to the store as a grocery store, not a convenience store. 'You would be surprised how many people do their weekly grocery shopping here,' says
Davis. 'My prices are generally lower than local supermarkets because my overhead is minimal.'

Davis says that she is really enjoying life in Eldorado. 'People have been very friendly and supportive, so many people have come in to say
'Welcome.'

Skate with us!

RHONDA DAVIS tends the counter of her new business, the Eldorado General Store. A newcomer to the area, she has received a friendly welcome from Eldorado residents.

MTM Hurricanes suffer first loss

After flying undefeated through the first six games of the 1985-86 season, the MTM Hurricanes came crashing back to earth last Tuesday night in Madoc with an 8-4 loss to the Wellington Dukes.

For the most part, the game was a wide-open affair with plenty of end-to-end rushes and scrambles in the crease area. The fast-breaking Dukes prevailed, however, dominating both in front of the nets and on the scoreboard.

Wellington opened the scoring five minutes into the game, when Steve Wright beat Hurricane netminder, Allan Wright, with a slapshot from the top of the circle.

The home side tied the game two minutes later on a 2 on 1 break. A last-second pass by Eric Brinks put Bob Stapley in the clear, and Stapley made no mistake.

The Hurricanes got a badly-needed lift toward the end of the first period. The Hurricanes were shorthanded and the final seconds were ticking down when Tom Clement stole the puck and broke in alone to score with only one second remaining on the clock. After one period of play, the Dukes led 4-2.

In the second period, Wellington continued to skate and pass well, while the Hurricane attacks failed to find the net. At 7:41, a Bob Stapley slapshot from the blue-line eluded the Wellington goalie to bring the Hurricanes within one, but that was as close as the Hurricanes would get.

One minute later, Wellington's Jeff Nimmo was allowed to walk in on the retreating Hurricane defence and slip one between the legs of Wright. Then, with six minutes remaining in the period, Wellington moved their lead to 6-3. There the score remained until the third.

Wellington came storming out in the final frame and after only one minute, were allowed a couple of bangs at the puck before putting it in the Hurricane net.

Frustrated and flatfooted, the Hurricanes simply hung on as best they could, even showing occasional signs of chippiness. The cheap shots were rare, though, and the object of the game was not forgotten.

At 11:45, Dave Nickle stuck one in for the Hurricanes. Wellington scored one more before the game was through to bring the final tally to 8-4.

The first two stars of the game were Rick Van Vlack and Paul Ireland, both of Wellington. Third star went to Bob Stapley of the Hurricanes.

It was not all bad news on Tuesday night, however: there were other winners besides Wellington. In the second intermission Shoot-out, Fred Ward won a smorgasbord for one compliment of the Madoc Hotel, and Doug Nobes won $42 in the 50-50 draw.

Announced attendance was 122. Next home game gets underway at 8:30 tonight, (Nov. 12th) against Brighton.

Madoc Minor hockey report

The Madoc Bantam Bs, under the management of Ray Cassibbo and George Beals, have split their first two games.

On November 2, the Bs hosted Belleville and were defeated 10-3. P. Dennis scored twice and G. LeSage once to record Madoc's three goals. Assists went to S. Grey, T. McLuckie and L. Cassibbo.

The Bantam Bs play in a league with Campbellford, Belleville and Stirling, and their home games are Saturday afternoons.

BANTAMS WIN LEAGUE OPENER
The Madoc Bantams started their league off on the right foot with an easy 6-0 victory over Frankford.

Derek Chapman opened the scoring at 10:34 of the first, which proved to be the winning goal, on assists from Alan Danford and Tim Hunt. Five seconds later, Jon Richardson found the mark after being set up by Paul Attwell and Brent Forestell.

In the second, Brian Forrestell scored at 9:17 from Trevor McTaggart and Steven Brinks. In the third, three more unanswered goals crossed the line. The first at 14:25 by Brian Forrestell from Tim Hunt and Trevor McTaggart; the second, an unassisted goal by Shawn Chapman at 6:29; and the third, with only 33 seconds left, an unassisted goal by brother Derek Chapman.

Jeff McMaster and Dave Gibson shared in shutout. The Bantams' next home game is November 22, in Madoc against Coborne.

RICHARDSON-WOODS WITH HAT TRICKS
Madoc Pee Wees started their league play with an 11-1 romp over Frankford. They outshot Frankford 41-16 in a game that saw Madoc controlling the bulk of the play. Derek Wood opened the scoring at 10:28 of the first, his first of three in the game. This goal was set up by Jason Francis and Paul McMaster. Jim Bonter scored at 8:43 to put Madoc ahead 2-0. Paul assisted on this one also as did Pat Graham.

Goal number three was the result of a rink rush by Shawn Chapman, who picked up a pass from Rob Bronson and Ian Richardson behind their net and carried it the length of the ice to beat opposition goalie. Nine seconds later, Ian Richardson scored his first of three on a pass from P. McMaster and Jeff Sawkins. Sawkins and Richardson combined for goal five to end the period.

The second period was a repeat of the first with Madoc scoring five more. McMaster and Richardson scored unassisted goals. Richardson scored his third from Jason Bailey. Jason Francis converted a D. Wood-P. McMaster Cont'd to page 4A

Not without the will to consider entering on a path of long and arduous training - and this would apply to most things of any real value - can one succeed towards a great accomplishment as the Chinese say. Of course, this view is not restricted to Oriental day-to-day life; it applies almost everywhere, certainly to our culture and its work ethic. Anyone with enough knowledge and skill in martial arts usually arrived at that level along the road of hard work and repetition... lots of sweat, in other words.

A brief flurry of activity can hardly be considered enough time to devote to a 'gyaku tsuki' (reverse punch). Indeed both mind and body would still lie half-asleep when asked to respond to an opponent's sudden rush. The formula for quick response against adversaries, simply put, is: repetition response. The truth of this was quite evident during our most recent seminar with Shihan Monty Guest of the Kai Shin schools. Shihan chose to concentrate on very basic karate techniques (waza) against single and multiple opponents, basic drills to increase one's ability to respond ('hen-o'). Those that had adapted their minds and bodies to karate methodology over a long period of time were indeed able to respond in a much surer, more solid manner, with a far better stance to brace their techniques and with the 'hara' (lower abdomen area, the centre of internal power in Oriental medicine and philosophy) sinking further.

Shihan has invited Dojo from our area to his Kai Shin Invitational Karate Tournament at the end of this month, Nov. 30, in Mississauga. Information on rides and times can be obtained by phoning 473-4366 or 395-2335. This week's picture is a memento of the very first seminar taught to us by Shihan Guest and Cont'd to page 4A

Havelock Novices in control

On Sunday, Nov. 10, the Havelock Nordic Cresting Novices hosted Campbellford.

Campbellford started the scoring almost immediately and Havelock retaliated by putting in two goals by the end of the first period. Havelock goals scored by Jamie Menzies assisted by Cory Holland and Adam Levesque assisted by Bryce Levesque.

In the second period, Campbellford netted two, but Havelock took control of the game and put in five more goals.

Havelock goals by Cory Holland unassisted. Adam Levesque assisted by Bryce Levesque, Cory Holland (2) assisted by Jamie Menzies (2), and Adam Levesque assisted by Jason Fitzpatrick.

Holland unassisted, Bryce Levesque assisted by Kevin Larmer and Cory Holland assisted by Jamie Menzies.

Final score: Havelock 11 - Campbellford 4.

Davidson 'Olds' off to good start

The Monday night game was a fine example of the high calibre of Oldtimer hockey - fast paced (?) and good clean hockey.

Rookies Victor Conte and Morley Bennett (also two goals) contributed positively to the team and should have no trouble making the club.

Next home game is Monday, Nov. 11, at 8 p.m.

Fred Ingram; last goal, Paul Keene.

Keep the first weekend in February open for the Brian Runions Memorial Oldtimers Tournament.

A late goal by Joe Hubbard, his second of the night, enabled the Campbellford Davidson Olds Oldtimers to tie the Trenton Pontiacs. The game was the first of the season for the newest member of the Trent Valley Oldtimers League.

Managing your money

MARDON

The most dramatic proposal in last May's federal budget was the plan to allow Canadians a lifetime exemption from tax on $500,000 of capital gains.

Although the budget hasn't yet become law, this capital gains treatment proposal will become effective starting in the 1985 taxation year. It is therefore most important to have this in mind when you do your year-end tax planning.

You should be doing this tax planning now. Don't wait until the end of December as you may find you're too late to take effective action in minimizing your taxes.

Farmers may claim the full $500,000 capital gains exemption immediately, provided the qualified farm property is disposed of after Dec. 31, 1984. Only farmers can obtain this special treatment of capital gains.

For the rest of us, the lifetime exemption will operate on a phased-in cumulative basis over the tax years 1985 to 1990, inclusive. The exemption for 1985 is $20,000. The cumulative total for 1986 will be $50,000. The exemption reaches the lifetime total of $500,000 in 1990.

Because of this phase-in system, it is essential to exercise good timing when it comes to disposing of any property or investments which will provide you with a capital gain.

Generally speaking, you should avoid claiming the special exemption during years in which your income will be comparatively low. If you realize the capital gain during a low-income year, it is likely to be in your best interest to meet the tax obligation in that year. You should be husbanding your special exemption for high-income years. This will result in better overall tax savings.

To illustrate the above points, let us take the case of a taxpayer (not a farmer) who owns a property he (or she) is considering selling in 1985.

He bought the property five years ago for $50,000 and has been offered $100,000 for it, in a lump sum. His capital gain would be $50,000 if he sold on that basis. However, only half of that gain, $25,000, would be taxable as income for 1985. (That's because 50 per cent of capital gains are exempt from tax.)

The taxpayer has several options. Firstly, he could claim the special new capital gains tax deduction of $20,000 for 1985. That would reduce the capital gain to $30,000, and only half of that amount would be taxable.

Secondly, he could arrange to sell only 40 per cent of the property in 1985, for $40,000, selling the balance for $60,000 in 1986. If he did this the full capital gain would be greater, he might regret acting so hastily in starting to use up that $50,000 from tax. (That's because he would use $20,000 of this special exemption for 1985 and $30,000 in 1986.)

Obviously the second option is the better one, tax-wise. However, the taxpayer will have used up a total of $50,000 of his special lifetime exemption of $500,000.

If that same taxpayer owned some other properties which could generate very substantial capital gains for him several years from now, at a time when his income would be considerably greater, he might regret acting so hastily in starting to use up that $50,000

Here's looking at you, Boss

BY: TONY CARLSON

Let's talk about The Boss. Not as in Bruce Springsteen, but as in Boss, what work needs to be done today?

In particular, let's talk about the three-quarters of a million women in small and medium-sized business across the country who qualify for that title.

Not all of these women have keys to the executive washroom, of course, for such things aren't often fixtures in the nation's smaller companies.

But the numbers, and other related statistics gleaned by the Canadian Federation of Independent Business from extensive surveys, lead to one simple conclusion: large numbers of women are taking leadership roles in independent business.

In more than 20,000 personal interviews with business owners/managers in the first six months of this year, CFIB found that 42.6 per cent of the women employed in the sector hold management or supervisory positions.

That compares with Statistics Canada data for the entire country which show that 28 per cent of employed women hold such jobs.

In terms of the actual number of women employed by small business, the survey revealed 50,697 jobs held by pass and D. Wood scored his second from Ian Ketcheson.

In the third, Madoc only scored once, a goal by Derek Wood, to complete his hat trick, from P. McMaster.

Frankford's only goal came at 0:22 of the second on a shot by T. Genereaux that eluded Robbie Lake. Robbie and Marty Shaw shared the goaltenders' duties. On November 15, the Pee Wees will host Marmora.

XXX NOVICES DEFEAT TWEED FOR FIRST VICTORY

David Graham and Brian Phillips each scored twice to lead the Novice team to their first victory of the year.

Madoc scored in the first on a goal by Brian Phillips, assisted by David Graham. They added two more in the second, before Tweed found the mark.

David Graham scored at 7:49 from Jose McNeil and again at 5:23 from John Brownson. Tweed's goal came with only 44 seconds left in the frame from Shaun Hunt and Allan Bush.

Brian Phillips added an unassisted goal at 4:09 of the third for an insurance marker. The Novice record stands at 1-2 with their next game on Nov. 17 against Marmora in Marmora. Next home game is Nov. 23, at 11:30, also against Marmora.

XXX MIDGETS SPLIT GAMES WITH TWEED

The Madoc Midgets opened their season with a 6-4 loss to Tweed in Tweed with a 7-3 victory over Tweed in Madoc on Monday, Nov. 4.

In the first game, Larry Bird opened the scoring in the first, assisted by Duncan Koswika. Tweed scored three times in the second to Madoc's once, to lead 3-2 at the end of two. Madoc's goal by Paul Hagerman from Dave Denison and Scott Chapman came at 8:50 of the second.

Tweed also outscored Madoc in the third 3-2. Madoc's goals came at 8:41, an unassisted goal by Duncan Koswika, and at 2:55, by Pete Ringelmann from D. Koswka.

In the second game, played in Madoc, a total of 25 penalties were served with 16 of these going to Madoc. Madoc did prove to be eventual winners with a 7-3 score.

The score was tied at the end of one at two. D. Koswika scored unassisted at 12:10 and again at 3:12 on assists by Pete Ringelmann and Larry Bird.

In the second Duncan completed his hat trick at 13:29 on a pass from Troy Melvin. At 10:48 Mark Burris added an unassisted goal, which was followed 24 seconds later by Duncan's fourth goal of the night. This goal was set up by Peter Ringelmann. Lennie Hyde and Paul Hagerman both added unassisted goals to complete the scoring for Madoc.

Madoc led 7-2 at the end of second and won the game 7-3.

Madoc will host Tweed again on November 18, at 9 p.m.

Martial arts

also serves as an example of the diverse interest in the martial arts locally, in that students pictured here are recognizable from Tweed, Madoc, Stirling and the Trenton areas. They are posing in the 'migi zenkutsu dachi' position, (right forward stance), most likely as a lead into a 'geri waza' (kicking technique).

Woods, water & wildlife

It's dusk. A ghostly great shadow stirs at the forest edge. In a flashlight's play, the ghost freeze. But wait - it's not a ghost - but a creature of absolute beauty - every hair in perfect sheen, and perfect place. A twig snaps beneath foot. Instaneously, the beauty is again a ghost. Three sprightly bounces, a high bound...and gone.

The white-tailed deer is unmistakable in Ontario. It's size, form, white cotton tail and (on bucks only) high branching antlers distinguish it immediately from Ontario's other deer - moose, caribou and largely-extinct elk. The white-tail has done well by man. This seems odd, it being one of North America's most intensely hunted animals. But its fortune rests in habitat and dietary requirements, and in our penchant for creating their ideal habitat. Browses, deer munch their way through 5-10 pounds (3-5kg) per day of buds, twigs, and saplings, favouring aspen, dogwood, maples and other tender vegetation. During summer and fall - when they are striving to build fat reserves - this is augmented by nutritionally richer grasses, goldenrod, asters and even apples.

Dense, mature woods - like the primordial forests which largely blanketed eastern Canada before European settler's arrival - offer precious little browse at the forest floor - all of the tender growth is high, beyond reach, in the canopy. Man's activities have benefited white-tails in a number of ways. Progressive agricultural clearing has converted the landscape into a vast women, of which 21,612 qualify as management or supervisory. Translate that across the sector as a whole and there are 750,000 woman managers in independent business.

There is more. While 82 per cent of the firms which responded to the survey employ women in some capacity, more than 56 percent have one woman in management and almost one-quarter have more than one.

The results are even more impressive considering that 80 per cent of CFIB members employ 15 or fewer people, giving individual managers greater say in the business.

'Ah, but,' say the skeptics. Surely this is all because hubby hires his wife to manage the books or whatever. It's not real clout.'

Well, there are no doubt many cases of husband and wife working together, but it says here that makes no difference. The spouse who's handling the books, or inventory, or supervising the hired help has a much, if not more, on her shoulders than many corporate managers whose every move is prescribed by bureaucratic decree.

The numbers, too, belie the 'wife syndrome' explanation. The survey found, as might be expected, that in the smallest firms, 62.5

checkerboard, creating literally tens of thousands of miles of edge - between farm fields, woodlots, pasture and valleys. This edge provides ideal habitat for deer, offering lush growth of shrubs and saplings, browse close to the ground, dense cover for both adults and cached fawns, and a rich variety of meadow vegetation at hand.

Moreover, man's intense development has sharply reduced the white-tail's natural predators. Cougar are virtually gone, believed restricted to only a few remote pockets. And, timber wolves fleeing man's progressive settlement, are gone south of the shield. While red fox and coyote have both filled the vacant slot, neither is adept at capturing large prey.

The result is a surprisingly large and healthy deer population in Ontario.

This is the key time in the white-tail's life cycle. Bucks whose antlers have been growing all summer, nurtured by their velvet coating, are now commencing the rut. Polishing their antlers by rubbing them on trees and threshing bushes, they strengthen their neck muscles. Over the next couple of weeks, they'll commence the ritualized shows and jousting matches that will ensure that only the largest, healthiest bucks will sire next year's fawns.

upon

Meanwhile,

years fawns - now weaned - are separating from their mothers. Over the next month, mature does will come into a 1-day heat, in which to mate. White-tail's 7 month gestation period will ensure that the progeny will arrive when food and cover are again lush.

In the meantime,

have a close look at those forest edges and road verges - particularly on dry days, about dusk or dawn. Watch for the stilled form of a white-tailed silhouette. You'll almost certainly be rewarded with new insight into nature.

Here's looking at you, Boss

women, of which 21,612 qualify as management or supervisory. Translate that across the sector as a whole and there are 750,000 woman managers in independent business.

But in companies with 100 to 499 employees, 52.2 per cent of employed women are managers or supervisors. They can't all be the owner's wife.

These statistics back up other research by Statistics Canada which shows that the number of women who own their own businesses grew from 11 per cent in the mid-1960s to 30 per cent by 1981.

It's apparent that women today are prepared to make their own way, stepping into management positions in small and medium-sized firms and in many cases running their own show. It's happening without fanfare, without the need for government intervention designed to help women specifically.

So next time you're about to ask a woman who's the boss, think twice. Chances are you're looking at her.

BUILT FOR THE LONG RUN

er at the annual

Rotary Ladies' Night

which was held in

Havelock on October

22. The dinner meeting was held in the hall of the Havelock United Church, where the Rotarians and the Rotary-Anns enjoyed a fine meal served by the ladies of the UCW.

The governor was accompanied by his wife, Penny, who presented the following Rotary Perfect Attendance awards later in the evening: Jim Rogers, three years; Don Newton, three years; Glenn Brett, 16 years; Gord Newton, 18 years; Bob Watson, 20 years; and Ernie Sanderson, 34 years.

Rotarian Mr. Bill Darrington made the introductory comments concerning Governor Ewen, who has been a Rotarian since 1974.

In his opening comments Ewen referred to the fact that last fall, at the Zone 2 Institute, he had the opportunity to meet his fellow governor-nominees for the first time. The nominees who attended were from 20 districts across Canada. Ewen pointed out that 15 of the districts are international and that they overlap from Canada to the U.S.A. He advised that 'the remaining five districts are totally Canadian, ours being one of them.'

Ewen agrees that District 701 is a large district. But, as he said to the Rotary group assembled at the dinner-meeting, 'Let me tell you what is big. District 555 starts in Dryden, Ontario and doesn't stop until it gets to Saskatoon, Saskatchewan. In between there are a million square miles to cover.'

District 701 extends from Campbellford to Kapuskasing, and then from Collingwood to Amos, Quebec. It is big and it is diverse with its mining industry, forestry and pulp and paper industry, manufacturing industries in the south and the tourist industry.

What makes Rotary an international organization?

Ewen said that he determined for himself that we may have a unique organization when we compare ourselves with other service groups. We are international in membership just the same as the Lions, Kiwanis and Kiwanis groups.

He continued 'they, like Rotary, perform outstanding service to the community and some, no doubt, get involved with international projects.'

Speaking of Rotary's involvement in the Foundation Scholarship Program, Ewen pointed out that 'We have over 430 districts in 159 countries around the world and each year, each district is entitled to award one scholarship to a student in their area.'

One pre-requisite concerning the scholarships is that the student must study in a country other than their own. 'Because each district contributes to the Rotary Foundation on a continuing basis, some earn extra scholarships each year,' Ewen added.

Because of this, it is not uncommon to find between 800 and 1000 students studying in 60 countries around the world each year.

An important highlight of Rotarian work is that this year, the Foundation has awarded ten scholarships to students in developing countries to study agriculture. 'It is anticipated that these awards will be continued in the future with a different field of endeavour being considered each year,' said Ewen.

District 701 has

India, South Africa, twice from Australia, England, Sweden and the U.S.A. We are now putting together the team that will go to Pakistan next February.'

commented Ewen speaking about a program that had its beginnings in 1965. Since that time the program has involved over 12,500 young business and professional people as participants. The endeavour has proven to be a valuable learning experience and has given us a better insight into their way of living and their problems and, of course, it has built goodwill and understanding.

HEALTH, HUNGER, AND HUMANITY PROGRAM

The Rotarian Health, Hunger, and Humanity Program has expended over $21 million U.S. on over 70 projects in the developing countries. In addition to that, over 480 volunteers have given of their professional services in over 30 countries.

'Our district does not take a back seat to anyone,' said Ewen. He referred to a Dr. Jim Pogany of Kapuskasing who donated his services in a refugee camp in the Philippines a few years ago. Also a Dr. John Wilson performed similar services in the South Sinai desert of Israel.

From District 701 alone, Ewen said that 'countless thousands of dollars were sent to India to help rebuild entire villages wiped out by typhoon and flooding. Then, we carried on to build classrooms, libraries, laboratories, and other facilities.'

Rotarian efforts have also been centred in the operation of a school for deaf children in the Dominican Republic. 'To this day,' said Ewen, 'we continue to send assistance in the form of medical supplies, certain drugs and educational supplies.' This past spring, the Rotarians sent about six tons of such goods to that country. Ewen advised that the group is now in the process of putting together another such load.

PAPER WE TAKE FOR GRANTED

'When we speak of sending paper that is clean on one side, we are not fooling,' said Cont'd to page 6B

IODE Memorial Scholarship awards

In 1920 the National Chapter of Canada IODE established War Memorial Scholarships and Bursaries as a continuing memorial to those who had sacrificed their lives for Canada. Since then, over $2.75 million has been awarded to more than 570 IODE scholars, including such distinguished Canadians as Richard Alway, Matthew Halton, Marshall McLuhan, Senator Alan McNaughton, The Hon. J.W. Pickersgill, Lionel Tiger and Albert William Truman.

For the 60th time since the inception of this memorial (no awards were made from 1940-45), outstanding Canadian students have been awarded IODE War Memorial Scholarships. These post-graduate awards are now valued at $11,000 for study abroad at a Commonwealth university and $8,500 for study in Canada. Reappointments are valued at $4,000.

This year's recipients are:

Ellen Jane Bradley, Hamilton, Ontario - $8,500.

Ms. Bradley received an Honours B.A. from Brock University in 1979, and is working toward her Ph.D. at Queen's University in the field of clinical psychology. Her thesis research examines factors which contribute to physical child abuse. Her awards have been numerous: three from Brock University; a Queen's University Graduate Fellowship; Bracken Graduate Fellowship at Queen's; and an SSHRC Doctoral Fellowship granted in 1982 and renewable for three years. Upon completion of her studies, Ms. Bradley hopes to combine clinical work with solid research and at some future time, part-time academic teaching.

Robert Gregory Finbow, Edmonton, Alberta - $11,000.

Mr. Finbow received an Honours B.A. from Dalhousie University in 1979 and an M.A. from York University in 1982. He is currently taking a joint programme leading to a M.Sc. (Politics) at the London School of Economics in London, England, and at York University, Toronto, designed to enhance his proposed dissertation research on the impact of American mass media imports and other influences on Canadian political thought. Mr. Finbow has received numerous scholarships and awards, including the Commonwealth and Ontario Graduate Scholarships, as well as one from York University, and the Canada Council Special M.A. scholarship. Upon completion of his studies he hopes his training will lead to a position in academic teaching and research; in public policy making or consultancy in Canada-U.S. relations and political communications.

(Christian (Stewart Patterson) Findlay, Montreal, Quebec - $8,500.)

Mrs. Findlay received a Bachelor of Music degree from McGill University in 1983 and was graduated with high distinction. She then enrolled at Boston University for study leading to a Master of Music degree in trumpet performance. At present, she is enrolled at Concordia University, Montreal, working toward a Master of Business Administration. After graduation she hopes to begin an internship with the administration of a symphony orchestra and eventually seek a position as administrative director of an orchestra.

Melanie Dawn Jones, Lethbridge, Alberta - $8,500.

Ms. Jones received a B.Sc. (Honours) degree from the University of Calgary in 1980 and enrolled in a M.Sc. programme in the Department of Botany at the University of Toronto in September of 1981. Following a qualifying examination the following year she was allowed to transfer directly into the Ph.D. programme. Her research work has been concerned with the ability of certain fungi to increase the tolerance of paper birch to high levels of copper and nickel in soils.

Upon completion of her doctoral studies, Ms. Jones would like to continue her career in research,

Elizabeth Marie Maynes, Toronto, Ontario - $8,500.

Ms. Maynes received an Honours B.A. in Economics from McMaster University in 1980 and an M.A. from Queen's University in 1982. She is currently working toward a doctoral degree at Queen's. The subject

Ewen. 'The Dominican child does not have the luxury of that piece of paper on which to write nor do they have the luxury of that pencil stub that we throw into the garbage with which to write.' Ewen also advised that Rotarians would continue their aid to this country while looking abroad to get involved elsewhere. He mentioned Nigeria as a possibility.

YOU ARE THE KEY

During his talk, in which Ewen referred to a few of the programs that Rotary International is involved in he also mentioned the Youth Exchange Program. He indicated that this program is not the exclusive property of Rotary. However, he added 'I wonder how many others can lay claim to exchanging over 10,000 students each year, five to six thousand of them being of the one-year school exchange variety.'

In the midst of all Rotary commitments, each club still finds time to involve itself with its own community. This includes service to youth, working with the handicapped, the elderly, building recreational facilities or other buildings. 'More recently, they have been spearheading fund-raising for their local hospitals,' added Ewen.

'When you look back over these accomplishments, you come to realize that they just didn't materialize by themselves. Someone, somewhere, had to have the idea, and someone, somewhere, had to make it a reality. That someone is you. You are the ones who make it happen. You are the key,' he said.

ROTARY WIVES

The success of the Youth Exchange Program requires the co-operation of many people. Ewen pointed out that, 'Without the caring Rotary wife who will take the student into her home and treat them as one of her own, there is no program.' He recognized that the program is also incomplete without the effort of the student who is willing to leave the security of home, family and friends and journey half way around the world to live with strangers.' Ewen also indicated that 'without the Rotarians who tie it all together and make it work, there can be no program. Each of you holds the key to the success of the program.'

MORE INVOLVEMENT

Millions of children, both in the Philippines and in India, were immunized against measles a few years ago, as part of Rotary International's concern for humanity. Ewen commented that 'Rotary is going to be there for the next twenty years, as we take on what has to be the most ambitious project ever undertaken by a service organization such as ours, namely the immunization of one billion children against polio.' Ewen would join with the World Health Organization in spending $120 million to accomplish the feat. CANADA IS FORTUNATE

'We in Canada are most fortunate,' said Ewen. He pointed out that Canadians can walk into the nearest health unit and get immunized 'not only against polio, but five other diseases, and it doesn't cost a cent.' He remarked that it is incorporated into Canadian taxes 'somewhere, but not enough to matter.'

'The peoples in the developing countries are not as fortunate,' he said. Referring to the fact that in these countries the citizens don't have the health unit to visit.

probably 'don't have the 12 cents it costs to immunize one person against polio.' Statistics indicate that last year, over 400,000 children in developing countries developed polio, and 50,000 of them died.

Ewen said that 'the remaining 350,000 must now face life with a crippling disability of one sort or another.'

THINK

ABOUT IT 'Think about it for a moment,' commented Ewen. 'If that happened in Canada we would be angry and demanding to know why it happened.'

Profile: Mr. Tom Ewen
Rotary Governor of District 701, Mr. Tom Ewen, first joined the Rotary Club of Parry Sound in 1974. He has served in the capacity of president, secretary, and has chaired numerous committees and special events.

Born and educated in Toronto, Ewen joined the Royal Canadian Navy in 1950. He retired in 1971 with the rank of Chief Petty Officer, and was awarded the Canadian Forces decoration.

On retirement from the Navy, he joined the staff of St. Joseph's Hospital in Parry Sound, where he currently serves in the capacity of Director of Finance and Personnel. Ewen holds a diploma in Hospital Organization and Management from the Canadian Hospital Association.

Ewen's Rotary service includes having been involved as a member of the District Youth Exchange Organization (YE) Committee from 1977-1985. He also served as District Chairman from 1981 to 1984.

His deep commitment to Rotary International has resulted in his attendance at four international conventions. He represented District 701 at the International Youth Exchange Officers' Conferences in Chicago, Dallas, Toronto, and Kansas City. He served as the Registration Chairman for the YEO Conference in Toronto in 1983, and participated as a group discussion leader. His wife Penny, who is a Rotary Ann, co-chaired the ladies' meetings at the same conference. The couple have one daughter, four sons, and five grandsons.

At the Havelock Rotary meeting, Governor Tom Ewen quoted a comment made by Rotary President, Tom Cadman:

'The smallest candle can pierce the darkest night. A million candles of Rotary can bring some light to the helpless, the hopeless, the homeless and the futureless; and it is not the brilliant candles that cause a glow, rather it's the brilliance radiating from these candles that brings warmth and comfort to many more millions of hearts and bodies.'

Recount not ruled out...

Deline ousts Pigden by six vote margin

It was a race down to the wire in Madoc after one of the most exciting election campaigns in years.

The competition for votes between Reeve Terry Pigden and challenger Tom Deline was fierce, and many expected the election to be a close one. Close it was, with Deline managing an upset victory by only six votes.

The final tally in the dash for Reeve's chair was Deline 340 - Pigden 334. Not only was the result a close one, but questions have been raised and rumours are flying concerning proxies voted at Tuesday's polling.

Both candidates for Reeve, and their supporters, brought proxies (authorizations for someone else to vote in an elector's absence) to the returning officer. Reliable sources told The Review last week that questions have been raised concerning the validity of some of those proxies.

Defeated candidate Terry Pigden told The Review on Saturday that he has 'not made up his mind' whether to petition for a recount. He has until November 28th to file an affidavit objecting to the results of the polling, setting in motion a judicially-supervised inspection of the final tally.

Reeve-elect Tom Deline is confident that the totals, while close, are accurate and that a recount would not change his position. 'There is no margin for error (in the counting process)', he told The Review. Deline withheld comment on the subject of the proxies, indicating that he doubted any alteration of the proxy count would effect the final result.

The active campaign brought a rush of voters to the polls. 686 electors, (64.1 %) of 1070 qualified voters showed up to cast ballots in spite of freezing temperatures and a persistent drizzle most of the day.

The students were free to approach the adult career representatives, asking questions about details such the education required for the career, the day. The high level of interest in municipal politics was also shown at the advance polls, where 89 ballots were cast.

In the race for council Jim Watson topped the polls with 484 votes, followed closely by John Hall with 478 and Lynda Matchett with 439. Crichton Harrop failed to gain a place in the Village government, polling a total of 333.

The existing council will meet one more time, on November 26th, and the new government will be sworn in at the first of December.

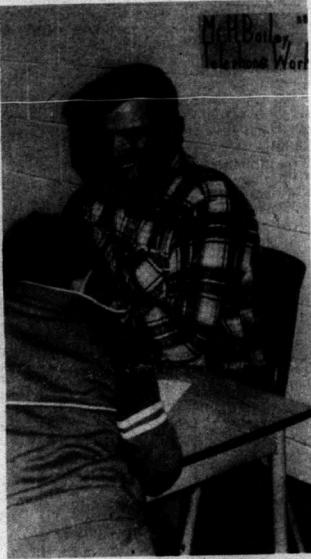

In Huntingdon Township, what many thought would be a close race between incumbent Deputy-Reeve Walton Reid and challenger Owen Ketcheson turned out to be a clear and easy victory for Ketcheson. He managed to attract 552 votes from the township to Reid's 391.

For seats on council, Ted Pollock activities last Wednesday. Over 45 representatives of widely different occupations were in attendance for interviews at the all day affair.

'Careers Day' big success

Students of Madoc Public School learned about everything from deep-sea diving to being the minister of a church at 'Careers Day', held last Wednesday.

Over 45 representatives of occupations and professions attended the school to be interviewed by the pupils at the all-day event. 'Every single student in the school got at least two chances to interview someone,' said Principal John Murphy.

The school day was broken into two interview periods, one in the morning and the other in the afternoon. The children made arrangements with teachers to take time from classes and meet with the career representatives, who sat at desks in the halls and school gym.

The event was planned and organized entirely by students at the school, with Principal Murphy acting as a resource person only. 'It took a lot of time to plan it and carry it off,' Murphy said. 'The response from teachers and those who took part has been positive.'

The nine students in charge of the event negotiated the necessary time off with their teachers and formed committees to handle publicity, invitations, scheduling, etc.

The students were free to approach the adult career representatives, asking questions about details such the education required for the career, the most pleasant (and unpleasant) aspects of the job, special skills required, and what other opportunities the career might lead to.

'It is part of the on-going learning process,' said Murphy, who hopes 'Careers Day' may become an annual event at the school.

The students were free to approach the adult career representatives, asking questions about details such the education required for the career, the Owners may help with moth survey

Woodlot owners may now participate in a standard egg mass survey to assess the degree of infestation of gypsy moth on their property.

Interested woodlot owners should contact their local Ministry of Natural Resources district office for the times and dates when the video can be seen,' explained Denys.

The brochure contains the survey form and step-by-step instructions on how to carry out the survey. Denys noted, however, that 'woodlot owners should carry out the survey as soon as possible, that is, before the snow flies.'

Co-sponsored by the Canadian Forestry Service and the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources, the survey is designed to gain population density information on gypsy moth in central and eastern Ontario.

'By surveying for egg masses,' explained Denys, 'a clearer picture of the infestation and spread patterns can be gained.'

A second objective of the egg mass survey is to study

The Madoc Santa Claus Parade promises to be bigger and better than ever.

Organizer Carol-Anne Kramp reports that over 40 floats, majorettes and possibly three bands will be escorting Santa Claus through the streets of Madoc on Sunday.

The parade starts at 2 PM on Russell St., will march down to the four corners, south on Durham, east past the High School, up to St. Lawrence and back west again to Russell.

Afterwards, Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus will go to the Kiwanis Centre, where everyone is invited to have a chat with the Claus' and enjoy the free hot dogs and pop. Entertainment will be put on by the Madoc Music Centre.

The parade is expected to be a big hit this year, so come early and find a good spot to watch it from.

Loyalist students visit Township School

A group of Behavioral Science students from Loyalist College in Belleville received a novel introduction to the workplace at Madoc Township School last Friday morning.

The students were part of a group that will be working at the school as part of a practical work-experience program going on in a handful of Hastings County Schools. They will be exposed to the school's daily routine as well as having an opportunity to deal with children having special learning problems.

For their first day at the school, Principal Art Gough arranged for a panel to meet with the students, discussing the problems and expectations of the workplace from diverse points of view.

The panel consisted of Principal Gough; Diane Spencer, Chairperson of the Loyalist Board of Directors; Kim Munroe, a graduate of the Loyalist Program currently working at the Township School; Grant Ketcheson, Farmer, parent and former member of the Loyalist Board, and Peter Dahl, Editor of The Madoc Review.

'Evaluation' was the key theme of the panel discussion, with panel members outlining their thoughts on the employee/employer relationship.

Academic skill and expertise took a back seat to more personal characteristics in the opinion of panel members. Numerous examples from the past experience of the panelists were examined, leading to the conclusion that ambition, enthusiasm and discipline were the important attributes of a valuable employee.

Students and panel members alike came away from the thoughtful discussion with a better understanding of the expectations of the working environment, an understanding that can only be a valuable asset in future employee/employer relationships.

Letter to Premier Peterson

A letter from Don McKinnon of Eldorado Cheese Ltd., in response to the questionnaire sent recently to the agricultural producers.

The Premier of Ontario
Mr. David Peterson
Parliament Buildings
Queen's Park, Toronto, Ont.

Dear Mr. Premier:

I am very pleased to have an opportunity to fill in your questionnaire, and express my concerns regarding proposed free trade arrangements which are soon to be discussed at the forthcoming First Ministers Conference.

"I would first of all like to express my admiration for you, when, as a very new Premier of Ontario, you first spoke out in opposition to the suggested free trade arrangement.

As both a dairy producer and president of a local cheese manufacturing plant, I am very concerned about the grave and disastrous effect free trade with the United States would have, in both the near and distant future.

The Federal Government assures protection for the social programs now in effect. They indicate supply management agreements, which have benefited primary agriculture producers for almost two decades, will be maintained.

It might be possible to continue the present social programs now in effect, but I am sure support programs in the agriculture industry in all the provinces of Canada, would soon become eroded, dismantled and abandoned, as mountainous United States agricultural surpluses flood across our borders.

We must also remember United States agriculture products are produced in a land where climatic conditions are much more favourable than ours. The United States produces agricultural products much more cheaply than we can in Canada, due to the fact that their energy costs are approximately half of ours. Gasoline in Texas last week was reportedly $1.01 per U.S. gallon.

A little over a year ago, Canadians elected a new government. They voted for change, a badly needed change. For millions of Canadians it was a time of hope, of expectations of a better future. As 1985 unfolded, the expectations of beef producers faded as they watched, in dismay, the importation of millions of pounds of cheap U.S. and foreign beef. As the Federal and Provincial Departments of Agriculture try to put together a "red meat" plan to save beef producers, the Federal Industry and Trade Ministry continues beef importation unabated.

Canadian grain growers strive to continue producing their product at barely break-even prices. They look across the U.S. border at a surplus of something like 40 billion bushels which have accumulated with the aid of U.S. support programs. This is a massive surplus they intend to dispose of.

The expanding dairy industry in the United States, in the past few years, has stock piled millions of pounds of surplus dairy products. They indicate they intend to change their dairy policy. They also intend to sell their surplus dairy products wherever possible.

I am sure the economic conditions on this continent are a major concern to every primary agriculture producer, to every plant manager and their employees, who labour to make Ontario agricultural products the finest available in the world.

Canada is a vast country, blessed with many natural resources. We are a nation of exporters. We trade with many countries, but with no one more than with our neighbors to the south.

The tariff system we have with the United States, has allowed Canadian agriculture and industry to survive, to prosper. If we are to remain a prosperous and self-sufficient nation, we must protect our agricultural producers, we must not allow the United States to flood our markets with unregulated products, with items which would be available at lower costs than our own.

The issue of free trade is complex and controversial. Admittedly, I have only dealt with one side of that issue, but it is a perspective worth considering because it is a Canadian perspective. I hope you can persuade the Canadian Government to consider 'Fair trade' with the United States for the benefit of all Canadians, not 'free trade' which would chiefly benefit only our neighbors to the south.

I would urge both you and your Minister of Trade, Industry, Technology, Mr. Hugh O'Neill, to take a firm and positive stand opposing free trade as suggested by the Federal Government of Prime Minister Brian Mulroney.

Sincerely,
Donald G. McKinnon

Elaine McKeown looks on as her daughter Sarah is interviewed by Public Health Nurse Jan MacLennan (right) during four-year-old screening activities in Stirling last week.

Tots to visit Health Nurse

If your child will be five years old in 1986, now is a good time to beat the rush and make an appointment with the Health Unit for their Developmental Assessment program.

The annual screening of pre-school children is a prerequisite for entering the school system next September and is designed to alert parents to problems that could hinder their child's learning ability, as well as to assure that the child has the immunizations necessary for entrance to school.

A Registered Nursing Assistant will check the child's hearing and vision for any abnormality that could develop into a problem at school. If something out of the ordinary is found you will be advised to consult with your physician soon and have the problem looked into.

A Public Health Nurse assesses the child's development both mentally and physically, again to alert the parent to potential problems.

The Immunization of School Pupils Act, passed in 1982, requires that children be immunized against certain communicable diseases before they can be admitted to school. The Public Health Nurses will check the child's immunization record and advise parents on any necessary immunization required. The nurse will arrange for the required needles or ask the parent to visit their physician to have immunizations brought up to date.

Parents are present through the development tests and interviews and are invited to ask, the Health Nurses about any subject that concerns them regarding their child's health or readiness for the first year of school.

Health Nurses advise that now is the best time to have the pre-school examinations made. If difficulties are detected early enough, they can be cared for and corrected promptly, giving your child the chance for a good start in the critical first year of school.

Screenings are being held on a regular basis. For an appointment contact the school your child will be entering or the Hastings and Prince Edward Counties Health Unit, Madoc Branch - at 473-4247.

To The People of Madoc:

I humbly "THANK YOU" for your support, your fairness of mind, and for the opportunity to serve you again. You never cease to amaze me. I will endeavour to give you my best.

To my Campaign Workers:

When the insinuations slapped you on the left cheek you stood firm, turned your head, took a slap to the right cheek, and without faltering, moved forward. You ran a straight forward campaign. Your faith, hope and charity will never be forgotten. Right from the heart. "THANK YOU".

To the New Council:

Bart, Jim, Lynda, and John let us forgive together, put the past behind us together, and unite to give Madoc the best together.

To My Family:

We have been down and up and you have stuck with me. When I faltered you helped me stand, when I lost hope you injected me with faith, when I was about to give up you reminded me that giving was receiving. It seems unfitting that all I have to offer you is me.

Sincerely,

Elaine

I AM leader fined

Winnifred G. Barton, founder of the Institute for Applied Metaphysics (IAM), was fined $53 recently for trespassing on the Institute's Coe Hill commune.

The trespassing charge is the latest incident in a power struggle for leadership of the institute, which Barton claims has been invaded by United States financial interests.

In a press release sent to The Review, Barton accuses New York lawyer Alfred Webre and institute Director Barbara Eaton of using a 'scam', in the form of a corporate manipulation to divest the original founders and many of their followers of their homes and property.

Members of the commune, which has been a valuable property on Highway 7 east of Madoc and a 140 acre site near Coe Hill, were required to give all their worldly goods to the institute when they became members.

The community was to provide a total lifestyle with cradle to the grave protection for all its 'family', writes Barton. The 'ideal' community was based on the 'Idea of Good' in the power struggle. The American interests have decided to sell off the Madoc area properties and abandon the communal living experiment.

Barton attempted to return to her former home at the Coe Hill commune, where her husband still lives 'as a recluse', on September 13th. She was charged by the Bancroft O.P.P. with trespassing after some of the few remaining residents, loyal to the new leadership, complained.

Madoc Women's Institute discusses industry

The November meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Sharon Phillips on Friday the fifteenth. The members and two visitors were welcomed by President Sharon.

The roll call 'Name a Canadian City or Town and its Industry' brought forth such replies as: Madoc - talc, Tweed - veneer, Belleville - Black Diamond Cheese, Deacon Shirt, Bell Shirt, Mead-Johnston, Batawa - Bata Shoes, etc.

Letters were read from Canadian Consumers re: our telephone service and also concerning the survey being made of our postal service, and from Doug Reid thanking the WI for his scholarship presented at Commencement. A comprehensive report of the area convention held at the Alhambra Inn, Belleville, in October, was given by Ada Adams. It was pointed out that the Institutes of Ontario are a forceful power and have spurred on our government in many areas, e.g. health and safety measures, producer-consumer relations, child care, women's pensions and the like.

The president reminded the members that the 4-H Achievement Day will be held in CHSS from 10 to 12, Saturday forenoon, Dec. 7. The girls will be modelling the jogging costumes they have made this fall.

Canadian Industries convener, Mrs. Bertha Love, now introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Gunter Peters, of Peter's Greenhouses, Eldorado. Mr. Peters said that greenhouses have been developed by man to help mother nature, capturing the sun for its light and warmth, so that plants can be started earlier. As early as Jan. 10, seedlings are made of pansies, begonias, etc., then hanging baskets are started. At the greenhouses new stock is always used each spring, so the plants are disease free.

Plants must have constant temperature day and night, so the grower is faced with two problems - how to get heat in, and how to get heat out. (through fans, wind power, sides which can be rolled up). The Peters' motto is 'A Quality Product Reasonably Priced'. After his interesting address, Mr. Peters was bombarded with questions about house and garden plants and shrubs and bulbs. Mrs. Love thanked the speaker.

Each member told of some world current event that they had read recently.

This was followed

Mrs. Holmes then read some parts of letters received from her brother Ruben who was a world war one casualty, other members who had lost brothers in that war remarked of remembrances they had of them. Each member then placed a poppy on a white cross. Mrs. Alex Clark then read a poem 'A soldiers prayer'.

The meeting was closed with the 'Queen' and also the singing of 'The Maple Leaf Forever'. Lunch was served by the hostess and her assistants and a social time was enjoyed by all.

Nation-wide peace coalition founded

A four-day conference held in Toronto Nov. 8-11, resulted in the founding of the Canadian Peace Alliance, a nationwide coalition of peace groups.

The Alliance is NOT a policy making body. Its purpose is to facilitate networking of peace groups across Canada and to serve as a connection for the launching of national campaigns by its member groups. There were approximately 400 voting delegates present, giving a well balanced representation.

A major concern that emerged from the workshops was that the upcoming NORAD renewal will be used as the back door entry for Canada's involvement in Star Wars.

Tritium export was an area of concern for many of the Ontario representatives. This radioactive by-product of nuclear production is required to 'boost' nuclear bombs every five years. Darlington has plans to produce and export tritium by 1987.

Regional concerns of the Canadian people were brought before the convention. A representative of the Mati people expressed the concerns in Northern Saskatchewan with the radioactive 'trailings' of the uranium mines. Representatives of the Inuit people spoke of the hardships their people and wildlife are suffering because of the low level test flights in Labrador.

"Ribbing - What is it? A new game, a new car, or food, - does it taste good? No, it tastes awful, and besides that, it isn't even food. It's that stretchy stuff that you can see on the cuffs of shirts, and the bottom of sweatshirts, and the necks of almost everything. Anyway, it's what the fifth meeting of the Simple Simon Sewers was all about. I mean they spent the whole meeting on it, and they were only talking about ribbing on necks of shirts. The members had to cut out pieces of material from the patterns in their books, sew them together, and then sew the ribbing to it."

The leaders, Mrs. Joyce Reid and Mrs. Mary McKeown, explained that the length of ribbing for necklines should be 2/3 of the neckline of the garment, and 3/4 or 2/3 of the bottom edge of a sweatshirt. For cuffs, use your own wrist or ankle measurement.

The homework is to have the samples done and mounted in their books and all ribbing sewn onto their garments which they are making.

'The Tomorrow Box' playing at Tweed

A short trip up Highway 41 from Tweed and one evening away from home may not sound spectacular, but for the Tweed National Theatre it is a first. After two nights on stage in Tweed, November 22 and 23, T.N.T. will 'hit the road' with its latest production on November 30.

With a dedication to the growth of theatre in Tweed, the members of T.N.T. will present 'The Tomorrow Box' by Canadian playwright Anne Chislett. After playing to the hometown audience at the Tweed Playhouse the troupe will move the set to the North Addington Education Centre in Cloyne, Ontario.

From its conception over a few years just over a year ago, the group has dreamt of taking a show on the road. Playing to the home crowd is one thing, but to pack up your stage and play to an unknown audience is a major step for this amateur group. 'In our journey to being a truly national theatre company, this production is a small but important move,' said assistant director Bill Piton.

'The Tomorrow Box' directed by Peter Snell was first produced in Lindsay, at the Kawartha Summer Theatre in 1979. Since then the play has been done across Canada. 'Since T.N.T. plans to emphasize Canadian plays, I feel our choice of 'The Tomorrow Box' is a good one. It has truly Canadian flavor,' said Piton.

The two act play revolves around the changing lives of Canadian farmer Jack Cooper, his wife, son and new, young-born daughter-in-law. Without consulting his wife, Cooper sells the family farm to his son Joe and plans a retirement in Florida. His wife, Maureen, decides to take a stand against this sprouting after 40 years of following her husband's orders. 'The Tomorrow Box' deftly explores the clash of lifestyles in Canada's rural areas.

Tom Bach who plays the stubborn patriarch said, 'We feel good about this play. We've been in the business a little longer and have been improving our skills.'

Foundation meeting

The Canadian Foundation For Ileitis and Colitis, Quinte Chapter, is having a general meeting for the support group formed in this area to help people with Crohn's Disease and Ulcerative Colitis.

The meeting is on November 19th, at 7:30 p.m. at Cavell Block (next to Belleville General Hospital).

The meeting is free and everyone is welcome. The guest speaker will be Dr. Groll, a gastroenterologist from Kingston. Much information can be obtained at these meetings by sufferers and their families, or anyone interested in these diseases. For further information: call 392-4367.

with the drama workshops.'

Tom also mentioned how excited he and the rest of the group were about taking the play on the road. 'After weeks of rehearsing and preparation, you feel like doing the play more than once or twice. By the second time, you're just getting warmed up.'

Director Peter Snell confirmed this by adding, 'A play is never a finished product. It is a never-ending discovery.'

Till this production, many of the actors have been limited to skits and one act plays. This two act play offers new challenges to the amateur thespians. 'It's much harder,' said Dave Summers, who plays the son Joe Cooper. 'Our acting skills are being stretched a little further. It takes more work and is very time consuming. Being on stage for an hour and a half will be a lot different.'

than 20 or 30 minutes.'

This is our first full-length production. It will give us a chance to cut our teeth on an excellent Canadian play,' said Snell.

All shows will start at 8 p.m. and tickets are $3.50 in advance from T.N.T. members, the N.A.E.C. and several Tweed merchants. At the door, price will be $4.

Marr-Gargus wed

Priscilla Anne Marr and Conrad Collin Gargus were wed on August 31st, 1985 at the Cedarview Community Church in Newmarket, Ontario.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Jean Marr and the late Sheldon Marr of Madoc and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Gargus of Edmonton, Alberta are parents of the groom. The couple was joined in matrimony by Rev. Michael Harbon and Rev. Murray Steacy of Elliot Lake, Ontario. Rev. Steacy gave the bride in marriage.

The bride wore a beautiful Chiffon and Organza Cathedral Train Gown, with a Sweetheart Neckline. The pearlized bodice was complemented with a deep basque waistline. Crystal Chiffon Pleating and Lace Applique on the sleeves, skirt, and train accented this lovely gown. Her fingertip veil with seed pearl edging fell from a matching bouffant pouff headpiece of seed pearls and applique. She carried a silk bridal cascade of Dusty Rose heart of Gladiolus, Burgundy Rubrum Lilies, White Frasie, Pink Minis, Variegated Ivies and Baby's Breath.

Her four attendants were; Lynda Evans from Holland Landing, Matron of Honour; Madlen Sexmith from Oshawa Ontario, sister of the bride; Becky Marr, Willowdale, Ontario, also sister of the bride; and Rachael Murray of Holland Landing, sister of the groom. The girls looked elegant in their deep burgundy taffeta gowns, with matching hats

On Saturday, Nov. 2, 1985, the Cooper-Rimington and Eldorado Knitty Kittys held their sixth meeting at the Cooper Community Centre.

The meeting was declared open when the president, followed by the members, repeated the 4-H Pledge. The collection was gathered and amounted to $1.50.

All members answered the roll call, 'If you were planning to make another action wear garment, what feature would you include?'. Members all shared in reading a portion of instructions to be followed to prepare our hem and piping sample; to be mounted and placed in our record books. The next meeting will be held on Saturday, Nov. 9, 1985, at the Cooper Community Centre. The meeting was closed by the 4-H Motto 'Learn to do by doing'.

November 9, 1985

The seventh and final meeting of the Cooper-Rimington and Eldorado Knitty Kittys was held on Nov. 9, 1985, at the Cooper Community Centre.

The president, followed by the members, opened the meeting with the 4-H Pledge. The collection amounted to $2.25.

Members showed a picture of a ready-made garment and said if it was a good buy or not.

Members then finished sewing their garments and the meeting was closed with the 4-H Motto, 'Learn to do by doing'.

On behalf of the 4-H Knitty Kittys we would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Lois Budd on the safe arrival of a new baby girl.

The members also would like to thank Mrs. Ethel Stein, Mrs. Lois Budd and Mrs. Marguerite Stire for donating their spare time towards helping the Cooper-Rimington and Eldorado girls complete their 4-H Club.

Thrillers to be screened at Library

A spy thriller set in England during the war with Germany will be one of the two movies to be shown in the next film program at Madoc Public Library.

'The 39 Steps' is based on a mystery novel by John Buchan and it promises to keep us in suspense right up to the final climax.

The other film is called 'The Olden Days Coat' and is based on a children's story by Margaret Laurence, one of Canada's leading authors. This is a magical story of a ten-year-old girl who receives an unexpected gift, a journey into an enchanted Christmas past.

Both movies will be shown in the library on Wed., Nov. 20th, at 1:30 p.m. and Fri., Nov. 22nd, at 7:30 p.m.

There is no charge. Both adults and children are welcome and we think that November's program will appeal to all ages.

We would like to hear comments and suggestions for future film programs so if you have any ideas or requests, speak to the library staff or one of the directors.

The next program and we have not yet chosen the films.

Queensboro news

Mrs. John Fleming and family of Stirling spent the weekend with Mrs. Allan Sager and Mrs. Aileen Pike.

A family get-together was held on Sunday at the home of Mrs. Arthur Holmes to honor her 75th birthday which is Nov. 7.

A number of senior citizens from here went to Kingston shopping on Monday via Franklin Bus. It was the senior citizens' trip.

Mrs. Goldwin Holmes (Jessie)

accompanied Mrs. Tom Lynn of Tweed this week to visit Mrs. Walter Henry in Cobourg.

A number from here attended the graduation exercises in Madoc high school on Saturday evening.

Miss Hazel Thompson of Belleville is a patient in Belleville General Hospital. She is the sister of John and Allan Thompson.

Mrs. Kelly Lucas and Kelly Lynn of Belleville called on Mr. and Mrs. John Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Clarke one day this week.

The Sunday School held a 'slave day' on Saturday, helping anyone with any kind of work. This was a success.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Clarke spent the supper hour on Sunday with Mrs. Arthur Holmes.

Mrs. John Walker spent this week with her mother, Mrs. Audrey Dafoe in Tweed.

MATTHEW HICKEY

Matthew Hickey, a Grade 8 student from Madoc Public School, recently spent four weeks at Queen's Park in Toronto.

No, he didn't take over from MPP Jim Pollock, but he did see the local member often, along with many other politicians and dignitaries as he worked as a page boy in the legislature.

Matthew is the son of Peter and Dorothy Hickey, of RR2 Madoc. He was one of 11 boys and 11 girls selected from over 600 applicants to work in the Ontario Parliament for the four-week period of the fall session.

Since he has the required 80% average grade in school and grandparents living in Toronto with whom he could stay, his mother suggested that he write a letter of application for the job. Matthew feels that his home in a rural part of the province helped him, as most applicants are from larger centres.

What does a page do at Queen's Park?

Matthew explained that he was kept very busy, five days a week. Wearing the regulation page's uniform, he shared responsibility for delivering written messages in the house, distributing bills and other papers to member's desks and offices, keeping water glasses full while the house was in session and taking part in the ceremonial processions.

The 22 youngsters didn't get a complete holiday from school. Matthew took Music and French on a daily basis and attended 3 hours of regular classes two days each week.

Some of the high points of the experience were opportunities to have lunch with the Speaker of the House and the Lieutenant-Governor.

Thank You

I would like to thank those who nominated me and all who supported me on November 12.

Following a social half-hour over the tea cups, there was a cookie exchange. Members were reminded of the Christmas meeting which will begin at 12 o'clock noon with a potluck dinner at Mrs. Vera Hill's, followed by a program to which everyone contributes a number, and by an exchange of gifts.

The meeting closed with the singing of O'Canada.

Hurricane's speed dominates the Bruins

Hitting was much in evidence last Tuesday night, but speed dominated as the Hurricanes broke out of a two game losing streak, downing the Brighton Bruins 10-4 in Madoc.

The game was hard-checking, featuring several devastating open-ice hits by both sides. Despite all the physical battling however, it was skaters that made the difference.

The Hurricane's jet-line - Scott Foley, Pete Mulroney and Jeff Wannamaker - dominated the contest, combining for seven goals and a total of 18 points. The Bruins, a last minute entry into the league, simply did not yet have the legs to contain the trio.

When the Bruins - probably man for man the biggest team in the league - were able to get into the Hurricane zone and forecheck, they gave the home side some difficulty. A solid game by Allan Wright in the Hurricane net held the Bruins at bay however.

The Foley-Mulroney-Wannamaker line began their demonstration seven minutes into the first period, as Foley scored and his two linemates collected assists. Then 22 seconds later Charlie Tebo capitalized on a goal crease scramble to put the Hurricanes up 2-0.

There was no more scoring until things broke open at the beginning of the second period. At 1:19, a good breakout pass sent Brighton in 2 on 1. Wright made the initial stop, but the rebound caromed off a backchecking Hurricane to give Brighton's Brent Dunk his first goal of the night.

Less than a minute later, the buzzing Hurricanes struck back, with Wannamaker scoring from Foley and Mulroney. Undaunted, the Bruins retaliated at the 3:20 mark on a bullet drive by Brent Dunk, but again that line was unstoppable and Mulroney scored on assists from Foley and Wannamaker to put the Hurricanes up 4-2.

At 10:53 Wannamaker scored on the power play after the Hurricanes showed some fine puck control in the Bruins end.

Momentum then moved to Brighton's side. The Bruins' heavy clean hits began to take their toll, and the Hurricanes found themselves retaliating, and consequently sitting alone in the penalty box. Wright stood his ground in the Hurricane net however, frustrating the Bruins on several good power play chances, andultimately holding them scoreless through the rest of the second period.

In the third, it was mainly more of the Foley-Mulroney-Wannamaker show. With Charlie Tebo hanging tough in front of the Bruin net, Barry Smith scored on a shot from the point to put the Hurricanes up 6-2. Then at 14:14 Wannamaker completed the hat trick, again on assists from Foley and Mulroney.

Brent Dunk of the Bruins broke in alone on Wright to complete his hat trick, but not to be undone. Wannamaker notched his fourth of the night from Foley and Mulroney.

With 2:36 remaining, Bob Stapley was left standing in front of the Bruins' net and slapped one in to up the score to 9-3. Mulroney turned his hat trick with 1:49 left to play.

Perhaps feeling the opposition's net was full enough, the Hurricanes scored on in their own net with 47 seconds left on the clock, and the final stood 10-4.

The three stars were the big goal scorers of the game: first star Jeff Wannamaker with four goals, second star Pete Mulroney with three, and third star Brighton's Brent Dunk who also posted a hat trick.

The other big winner on the night was Marg Chapman. Despite the small crowd, she pulled in $46.50 in winning the 50-50 draw.

Next home game is Tuesday November 19th against Wellington, when the Hurricanes will be trying to avenge the consecutive losses they recently suffered to the Dukes. Game time is 8:30 p.m.

1986 Plowing Match

It is important to know the facts about an event as large as the International Plowing Match and Farm Machinery Show when it is coming into your area. Madoc led 2-0 at the end of the first period on goals by Tim Bailly from Scott Tracey.

In the second, Charlie Brownson scored his first of the year with assists going to Derek Davidson and Chad Bateman, to put Madoc into a 3-1 lead.

Two goals, 16 seconds apart, early in the third gave Madoc a 5-1 lead before Belleville came back with two of their own. Madoc's goals were scored by Tom Burnside from Tim Bailey and Brad Phillips and from Brad Phillips unassisted.

Barely into the second round, Kevin Terrian's goal with an assist by Dwayne Bertrand, put Marmora into the lead. Madoc tied it up again with 4:25 left on the clock.

The third period had the two teams playing goal-for-goal with Marmora's Kevin Terrian picking up a hat trick at 11:40 assisted by Chad McCurdy. Madoc evened the score once more at 8:44 but Marmora pulled ahead as Kevin Terrian shot in his fourth goal of the night assisted by Wayne Brown. Marmora held the lead until the 31 mark when Madoc scored to end the game with a 4-4 tie.

The Havelock Nordic Cresting Novices travelled home from Douro on Thursday, Nov. 14, with a 7-6 victory. This is goaltender Mike Buchanan's first shutout of the year. Cory Holland scored his second hat trick in the three games played this season.

Ontario Minister of Transportation and Communications Ed Fulton recently confirmed that the province's photo driver licensing system will go into operation Feb. 3, 1986 with the mailing out of renewals.

Drivers will continue to renew their licences every three years on their date of birth as before," said Fulton, "now, however, they will have to come into a ministry photo site to have their picture taken."

These sites...almost 400 of them...include all Driver and Vehicle licence offices MTC Driver Examination Centres and selected travel points and OPP offices in the more remote areas of northern Ontario.

Photo licensing provides a more positive identification method," explained Fulton. "It prevents the misuse of driver licences, and offers a virtually tamper-proof licence."

In addition, all new drivers will automatically enter the photo licensing program. Those requiring a replacement licence fit in the same category.

Reinstated drivers (other than those suspended for medical-related reasons) will be advised they must get a photo upon reinstatement.

Photo licensing programs are-existent in Alberta, British Columbia and Prince Edward Island as well as all 50 American states and the District of Columbia.

To offset the cost of the new program, renewal licence fees have been set at $21 every three years," said the Minister.

Managing Your Money

MARDON

A professional financial planner has questioned the wisdom of taxpayers deferring use of the capital gains tax exemption.

His advice is to take advantage of the new tax legislation as soon as it's approved by Parliament. (This approval should be given before the end of 1985, but even if it doesn't get through Parliament until early 1986, the capital gains treatment proposal will apply to the 1985 tax year.)

Under the proposal Canadians will be entitled to a lifetime exemption from tax on $500,000 of capital gains, in a phased-in system over the next six tax years.

This financial planner happens to be a political realist. He points out that although the current federal government has a whopping big majority in the House of Commons, that's no guarantee the government will be re-elected in the next general election. If another political party gains office, it might scrap the capital gains tax exemption program.

In the event this happened, only those Canadians who already had taken advantage of the new legislation would have saved money by using the capital gains tax exemption.

Take advantage of the tax concession as quickly as it becomes available, the financial planner advises. Who knows how long it will be around?

He also points out that a great many Canadians will never qualify for the full $500,000 of capital gains exemption. Only a fortunate minority will ever get to be qualifiers at that full level.

The largest single investment a majority of Canadians will make in their lifetime is the purchase of a home. And ever since the capital gains tax was introduced in 1972, a person's principal residence has been exempt from the tax. In other words, the new tax exemption is of no benefit to homeowners.

Some people labor under the impression that a summer cottage also can qualify for protection against capital gains tax, when it is sold. That is not the case. The rule only applies to an individual's or family's principal residence; and you can own only one such residence at a time.

However, keep in mind that you can buy and sell any number of principal residences during your lifetime and enjoy tax-free capital gains, provided that you are not doing this

Before hitting the ice this winter, young hockey players may need birth certificates as proof of age.

Many children's organizations and sports clubs, such as the Ontario Minor Hockey League, insist on verifying the ages of participants. As a result, when fall and winter registrations begin, parents often end up scrambling to apply for their children's birth certificates.

Requests for birth certificates flood into the Registrar General's office every year when hockey teams and other groups start organizing for the season. An even larger deluge occurs each spring when school registrations take place.

To avoid last-minute panic, parents should apply for certificates as soon as possible," says Rosemarie Gage, Deputy Registrar General of Ontario for the Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations.

If you can't find a form, simply write to "The Registrar General, Queen's Park, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, Ontario, M7A 1Y5" and request a certificate. Be sure to list all pertinent information, including the names of both parents, the child's name, the place and date of birth and the reason the certificate is required.

A $5 fee for each certificate must be paid upon application. It's really best to apply for birth certificates shortly after your children are born," says Gage.

'But don't confuse registration of the birth with an application for a certificate.'

By law, all births in Ontario must be registered within 30 days of the event.

The child's parents and the hospital involved must forward registration information on the birth to the local municipal clerk. The two reports are cross-checked, then forwarded to Gage's office.

Failure to register can result in a $100 fine. The penalty for reporting false information is $500, but fines for both offences are under review.

A certificate is a legal document confirming facts about the birth.

A Different Perspective

BY JAMES ALFRED

Change your job, change your address; do something to instill excitement or a new perspective in life.

I thought about that, mostly when I plowed or disked. My thoughts had plenty of time to consider the options. But I didn't act. I merely thought.

Meanwhile the neighbors seeded earlier, the Joneses got a heavier crop. The Smiths had less overhead and better soil, the weatherman had it rain when I hayed and dry when I planted. But mostly with profits down, the kids off 'at school, the house so much quieter, I made up my mind. I quit farming, sold the farm and viewed life from another side.

Life's no more exciting but it is different. Like, I hardly hear the weatherman anymore. I do note when the hay gets wet and ponder on the farmers' problems, but mostly I think of how my flowers will love it and how my garden will grow a little better and how I'll have to pick some more weeds. It's life from another perspective indeed.

One of my pet peeves used to be Blue Burr in my crops, especially in the pasture. The cattle don't eat it and it crowds out the better feed not to mention what it does to grain or seed value. How I hated that Blue Burr! Next on my list was thistles, especially around the barn yard. The kids knew when I'd found a new patch because I'd cuss and storm and send them out to cut those hated weeds down.

But that was last year. A whole new me has grown. I especially laugh at myself over the Blue Burr. One morning while pondering my views I caught sight of a glorious patch of blue beneath my pine trees. Suddenly anger and adrenalin filled by body-Blue Burr! In a state of confusion I absorbed the contrast of perfect blue and soft green pine. It was beautiful - not like a neat and tidy garden, but in a maze of color, a contrast of gentle nature.

Again, an instant urge to destroy the weed temporarily surged, but slowly I settled back, sipped my coffee, and cup in hand, ambled out and stared. I knelt down, studied the fine daintiness texture of that Blue Burr is. That and a dozen other wonderful weeds that grace the roadways.

They fill the world with color, perfume, and beauty. Funny, I never noticed it before, but I view life from a different perspective now and my life is fuller for it.

I might just apply that perspective to more of my life.

Madoc Bantam's with two more victories

The Bantams won their third league game by posting 11-1 and 8-2 victories. Game one against Frankford was an 11-1 decision with Frankford's goal coming at 4:43 of the second.

Derek Chapman and Trevor McTaggart each had four goals and an assist in the win. Single goals went to Brent Forestell, Tom Deline and Jon Richardson. In the assist department, Brian Forestell had four as did Jon Richardson. Single assists were recorded by Shawn Chapman, Brent Forestell, Trevor McTaggart, Derek Chapman and Alan Danford.

In the game against Colborne, an 8-4 decision was registered. Derek Chapman, Jon Richardson and Brian Forestell had two goals each, with singles going to Trevor McTaggart and Tom Deline.

Brent Forestell, Steven Brinks, Trevor McTaggart, Brian Forestell and Derek Chapman had assists.

scoring from Chris Daniels and Pete Ringelmann for Madoc. Terriorn replied for Marmora from Bertrand.

Madoc's third goal and fourth goals were scored by Alan Danford. Assists went to Derek Chapman and Hyde and Forestell.

Marmora's Terriorn his third and fourth of the game to complete the scoring for Marmora. Assists went to Chad McCurdy and Wayne Brown.

Just a note of interest here. Kevin Terriorn scored eight of the nine goals Marmora scored in the two games.

Co-Op profits climb

A power interruption delayed the start of the Madoc Co-operative Association's 1985 Annual Meeting last Wednesday afternoon but the sparks flew later on as financial reports were reviewed by the membership.

In spite of some vocal criticism of the organization's credit management and the director's limited disclosure of financial information, the meeting went well, with figures revealing stable growth at the Co-Op.

Sales margins and profitability were up significantly over the previous year, and while the sales increase was modest ($3.95 million compared to 3.73 million last year) any increase is considered healthy in a faltering agricultural economy.

In his Management Report Co-Op Manager Bill Havekes summed up the situation:

The state of the economy in general became a serious factor to deal with at your Co-operative.

The impact on the Co-Op was not unlike that faced by our many farm operator members. Customers became more selective in their purchasing. Sales growth became more difficult to achieve. Expenses continued to keep pace with inflation. Cash flow

Ted Foley, Don Wannamaker and Ross Moccroft. Despite some difficulties with receivables, the Madoc Co-operative Association showed encouraging profits in a depressed farming economy.

'The Sheiling' becomes 'Sharon's'

One of Madoc's best known businesses changed hands on Monday as 'The Sheiling' became 'Sharon's Bouquets 'n Gifts'.

Sharon Love, a longtime Madoc area resident, has purchased the Sears Catalogue outlet and Florist Shop from Sheila and Linda Frost. Sheila and her daughter, Linda, have operated the shop on Durham St. for 4 years, improving it into a popular gift and flower shop as well as a reliable Sears catalogue merchandise outlet.

Linda Frost has decided to enter Wilfred Laurier

University to study Honours English and History and her mother plans to 'just take it easy' for a while.

Sharon Love has previous experience with the Madoc Furniture Centre and working for Corbin Lock in Belleville. She also creates some of her own merchandise - crafts such as pinecone wreaths, centerpieces, tree ornaments and handmade purses.

She will be stocking her own handicrafts soon and plans to expand the shop's lines of giftware and crafts in the new year. Next summer she will be taking a diploma course in Floral Design at the University of Guelph.

The Sears Catalogue trade is an important part of the business, and over the last few weeks Sharon has been learning the complexities of the computer-generated paperwork from Linda, in order to keep orders and deliveries running smoothly.

families waiting in line to visit St. Nick or helping themselves to the free hot dogs and pop.

The winners of the parade competitions were announced:

Best overall float was awarded to the Madoc Beavers. Runner up was the Toronto Dominion Bank.

The best float on a Christmas theme went to St. Peter's Presbyterian Church, followed by the Eldorado Beauties.

The best merchant float was entered by Eldorado Cheese, with second prize going to Kramp's (a fix?).

The best school float went to the Madoc Public School with second place taken by the C.H.S.S. Band.

First place award for family effort was won by the Walters with the Johnstons riding to second.

With a Ho Ho Ho...

Santa arrives on schedule

Linda and Sheila Frost have sold their florist shop and Sears catalogue outlet to Sharon Love (right). The new manager will change the name to 'Sharon's Bouquets 'n Gifts', and will be stocking some of her own handmade crafts.

Editorial

It's Christmas party time again.

'So...Merry Christmas! Thanks a lot Don, Mary...great party.'

'Where's my other glove? Damn. It's cold out there...here it is.'

'Go easy, eh...the cops are really on the warpath these days.'

'I'm okay...thanks again...have a nice Christmas.'

'I'm okay'...just about everybody driving a car after the party is 'okay', unless they get caught, or worse...and they find out they aren't 'okay'.

A lot of nice people are going to a lot of parties these days. A lot of nice people are going to get hurt, or be arrested...and some nice people are going to die in their cars this season.

Why? Usually because they started out thinking they were 'okay'. And if you're 'okay', it's okay to drive. If you get home without incident, as most 'okay' people do, then all's well, and there's another party next weekend.

The trouble with our attitude toward drinking and driving is that we permit those who are 'okay' to drive...and leave it up to the individual to decide.

In Sweden, a country with a society much like our own, they have drastically reduced the problem of impaired driving. Most people think this has been achieved by tough laws and punishments.

They do have tough punishments, but they aren't that much tougher than what is being proposed in the Ontario legislature now. What makes the difference in Sweden is more fundamental.

In Canada it is legal to drink and drive. What's illegal here is to 'drive while impaired' or to drive with more than .08 in one's system.

What's illegal there is to drink and drive Period. Yes...anything. Just a trace of alcohol in your system and you are in big trouble with the law.

The reason we still have such a drinking/driving problem is that we condone it, officially. As long as you're 'okay', you're okay. But who decides? The teenager who has already had four beers? The bartender who notices the slur in his patron's speech? The employee who's boss is so merry at the party?

This writer is no teetotaler, by a long shot. I enjoy a drink. I enjoy two drinks, and I have been known on occasion to enjoy more than two. And when the party's over I have been known to drive home...so long as I know I'm 'okay'. I guess so far I have been.

But if I lived in Sweden I wouldn't have to worry about driving home. I would know that after that very first sip I would not be 'okay', and I would make other arrangements for transportation.

As long as we permit drinking and driving - it will still be up to you, and me, and the cop and the coroner, to decide who's 'okay' and who isn't.

It's 'okay' to drink and drive...

aren't that much tougher than what is being proposed in the Ontario legislature now. What makes the difference in Sweden is more fundamental.

In Sweden it is illegal to drink and drive.

In Canada it is legal to drink and drive. What's illegal here is to 'drive while impaired' or to drive with more than .08 in one's system.

What's illegal there is to drink and drive Period. Yes...anything. Just a trace of alcohol in your system and you are in big trouble with the law.

The reason we still have such a drinking/driving problem is that we condone it, officially. As long as you're 'okay', you're okay. But who decides? The teenager who has already had four beers? The bartender who notices the slur in his patron's speech? The employee who's boss is so merry at the party?

No, it's usually the roadside breath test, or worse still, the coroner.

This writer is no teetotaler, by a long shot. I enjoy a drink. I enjoy two drinks, and I have been known on occasion to enjoy more than two. And when the party's over I have been known to drive home...so long as I know I'm 'okay'. I guess so far I have been.

But if I lived in Sweden I wouldn't have to worry about driving home. I would know that after that very first sip I would not be 'okay', and I would make other arrangements for transportation.

As long as we permit drinking and driving - it will still be up to you, and me, and the cop and the coroner, to decide who's 'okay' and who isn't.

FIRST PRIZE FLOAT WAS ENTERED BY THE MADOC BEAVERS (above), but the judges decision was a hard one...dozens of well-made floats were in the Madoc Santa Claus Parade on Sunday. Santa spent some time with the little ones at the Kiwanis Centre afterwards, receiving promises of extra good behavior, and passing out candy canes in return.

Brownson gave the treasurer's report, and Reta Allore gave the card report. Irene Gordon thanked the Unit for a card while in hospital and Anna Carman thanked the Unit for cards she received...when Delbert was sick and after passing away. Sorry to hear Sadie Holmes is in the hospital but pleased she is improved.

There will be plates of goodies and cookies made up for the shut-ins Dec. 17th, at the church. Help will be needed.

There was an election of officers for the following year with Hilda Devolin presiding.

Three of our members, Eva Brownson, Verna Empey and Hilda Devolin, attended the Rally in Stirling, and gave a report on it. Next year the rally will be held at Tweed.

The December meeting will be at Anna Carman's home with Hilda Devolin and Verna Empey assisting.

The Greeters were formed for the month of December at the church.

The program convener, Reta Allore, had Alma Moorcroft show a film, the theme being 'Man ruler of Creation' and was commentator of the film which was much enjoyed by all.

The meeting closed with prayer.

Letter

Dear sir,
In tracing the pioneer Seeley family of Samuel and Nancy (Huffman) Seeley of Rawdon Township, I found some settled in Madoc Township.

Would any of your readers have information on a Harford and Mabel (Mack) Seeley who had a son G. Lucas Mack Seeley born in Madoc Township in 1913?

With best regards,
Gordon Crouse

Woods, water and wildlife...

BY: MIKE SINGLETON - FEDERATION OF ONTARIO NATURALISTS

Motionless beneath an aged apple, the brown-and-white form scans the terrain for movement. Seeing none, she stretches toward a tender twig. Suddenly, mayhem erupts, and the form explodes into action. But...too late; her unwary form becomes another meal.

Snowshoe hares are vital in Ontario's meadow and woodland ecosystems, providing the link between plant material and a host of larger mammals and birds. And, by their selective taste preferences, snowshoes actually help determine which trees comprise our forests, and which plants flourish in meadow habitats.

Snowshoes feed voraciously upon grasses, asters, daisies, jewelweed, a variety of herbs, and the tender leaves of birch, poplar and willow. As winter arrives, they switch to the food-rich buds and twig-bark of birches, poplars, shrubs and even conifers. They especially relish sugar-rich species like cherry, and fruit trees, while avoiding bitter-tasting species.

This taste preference - coupled with their voracious appetites and large numbers - means that the more palatable species - like butternut - are cropped off into relative rarity each year, while bitter species - maple, beech and oak among them - flourish.

vegetation - up to 1/4 of their own body weight per day - into protein. It seems ironic that the cecum - that 'useless' organ known as an appendix in people, is the key to the whole system. In the snowshoe and its cousins, this bag-like section of the intestine is tremendously enlarged, and acts as a fermenting pot where bacteria digest the cellulose which the animal itself can't break down. Using an enormous intestine, the nutrients are then absorbed, and converted to protein and fat.

Snowshoes through their numbers and vulnerability - then become the main diet of a host of predators - great horned and great grey owls, red fox, coyote and timber wolves, lynx and bobcat to name but a few. And, there lies an interesting balancing act. Snowshoes must be efficient at escaping predators. But not too efficient.

Snowshoes' crepuscular (evening/dawn) and nocturnal habits reduce their visibility. So does their slow, pausing movement, and constant scanning of the terrain with superb vision and sensitive ears. But perhaps the most important is the annual colour change: brown in summer, white in winter. Now in the midst of their 70-day-long autumnal moult, snowshoes are losing patches of brown fur, and growing in white. According to scientists they have two complete sets of hair follicles - one white and one brown. Shortening daylength triggers the moult and growth of white fur.

Together, these adaptations and their ability to bound up to 50 km. per hour - make the snowshoe an elusive prey. Yet, particularly in late afternoons or on an overcast day. And watch for the tell-tale snapping of twigs and winter-girdled branches. You'll discover a whole new part of our outdoors.

Canada - USSR agricultural agreement extended

Agriculture Minister John Wise has released details of a new protocol extending Canada-USSR agriculture cooperation to include commercial issues.

The document was signed during his recent trip to the Soviet Union. "It was a very fruitful and successful visit," Mr. Wise said of the trip undertaken October 2 to 9.

"Our two countries have enjoyed a long-standing and productive relationship on agricultural matters. As a result of our latest discussions, we were able to extend our current co-operation on scientific and technical matters, to include commercial issues benefiting both parties."

Several prominent Canadian agribusinesses were represented in Moscow with Minister, and a number of commercial transaction and discussions took place.

Mr. Wise witnessed the signing of a protocol between OSECO INC. of Brampton, Ontario, a seed reproduction firm, and the USSR Ministry of Agriculture for a long-term co-operation in the testing of varieties and hybrids of forage crops.

During the visit, Semex Canada delivered the final shipment of a 70,000-unit dairy bull semen contract and commenced negotiations for further contracts in 1986.

"I certainly feel that the support Mr. Wise gave the Canadian artificial insemination industry of this occasion will no doubt lead to further substantial contracts for Canadian bovine, hog, and goat semen," said Semex Canada's Barry Weaver, who accompanied the Minister.

The Soviets indicated that they are committed to the increased use of Holsteins in milk production and much of the genetic material would come from Canada.

Other businessmen present were Don Rountree of VIAFAX Corp., Ross Schantz of Hybrid Turkey Inc., Wes Thompson of W.G. Thompson and Sons Ltd. and Gordon Wells of the Saskatchewan Agricultural Development Corp.

The agribusinessmen and officials on the mission said Mr. Wise's presence helped open doors at high levels in the Soviet trading sector, leading to greater prospects for sale of their products in the near future.

Participation in the discussions has been a significant positive addition to Alberta's efforts to diversify our market and product base," Mr. Mehr said.

A follow-up private mission from Alberta to the Russian Soviet Federal Socialist Republic, the largest of the Soviet Union's republics, is expected before the end of 1985.

Items high on the list for prospective trade deals are the technologies for production of seeds, oilseeds and seed potatoes, as well as poultry breeding stock.

The document the Minister initiated is officially called the Protocol of the Mixed Soviet-Canadian Commission on Cooperation on the Field of Agriculture for 1986-87. Among other things, it covers plant production and protection, animal and feed production equipment, and computer technology application.

Specific items for further development include minimum tillage projects for soil conservation, seed exchanges and demonstration of Canadian canola technology, and exchange visits by Canadian and Soviet scientists and specialists during 1986-87.

I'm very pleased that many projects under the program of co-operation will involve not only Agriculture Canada but will also give opportunities to both provincial ministries of agriculture and Canadian firms,

Mr. Wise said.

He added that the two countries are very close to signing amendments to a bilateral agreement on bovine semen and embryos which

Wondering how to discuss the problems of the nuclear age with your children?

Wondering how to present the positive while recognizing the negative?

Quinte Development and Peace is sponsoring an evening to help you answer those questions on Wednesday November 27 at 7:30 p.m. in the Centennial Secondary School in Belleville. Everyone will have an opportunity to share their concerns and ideas with two members of 'Educators for Peace' Kingston chapter, Don Chalmers and John Paterson.

Don Chalmers teaches Grade 4 and 5 at Sydenham High School and John Paterson is a special education teacher at Lord Strathcona School.

Both teachers attended the international 'Educators for Peace' conference last spring, sponsored by western school boards and the University of Alberta, where the conference was held.

'Educators for Peace' say that schools should encourage children to choose co-operation over confrontation, competition and conflict and should present children with images of peace rather than violence... Both Chalmers and Paterson have introduced their students to non-violent, co-operation methods of conflict resolution in their classrooms.

The evening will also include the film 'In the Nuclear Shadow' which shows children's reactions to living in the nuclear age. Books, pamphlets, studies and other resources will be available to help parents and teachers cope with this responsibility.

Any further information, please call Joan at 962-7208 in Belleville.

Soviet meeting

Cont'd from page 7 would allow increased movement of high-quality Canadian genetic material to the Soviet Union.

He suggested to the Soviet Agriculture Minister V.K. Mesyats that their veterinary officials should meet to resolve outstanding issues regarding live cattle.

The Minister was in the USSR to co-chair with Mr. Mesyats the Mixed Soviet-Canadian Agricultural Commission set up in 1981 to co-ordinate agricultural projects between the two countries.

The Soviet Union is a priority market for Canada, worth $2.1 billion in Canadian grain and other agricultural products and technology.

The Minister expressed to Soviet officials his hope that the USSR would continue to buy Canadian grain, as well as extending their purchase to other areas.

A THRUWAY ASSOCIATE

If you don't need our help...we need yours!

The Salvation Army says...if you don't need our help...we need yours!

The Christmas season is approaching and The Salvation Army in Tweed under the direction of Lieut. and Mrs. Bill Mason is turning attention to the Christmas Appeal.

With Tweed as the central, the Salvation Army's boundaries extend north of the 401 to Denbigh and Maynooth; bounded on the east by highways 37 and 41 on the west by highways 14 and 62 and includes all communities and their rural routes. This vast area represents a diversity of needs as residents experience difficult times.

Last year at Christmas, The Salvation Army was able to assist 178 families, which included 575 people. This year it is anticipated that even more families will be counting on the resources of the Christmas Appeal fund.

A family in need may submit their name to a 'community helper' such as a social worker, Health Unit nurse, school principal, family minister, local O.P.P. detachment. An application will then be completed and forwarded by the 'community helper' to The Salvation Army. All of these applications must reach the Tweed office on or before December 6, 1985.

Each year as you give so generously to the Christmas Appeal your donation makes it possible for caring and sharing to take place not only at this beautiful Christmas season but all year long.

If you don't need our help...we need yours. Thank you.

In last week's paper we incorrectly gave the Ward 4 School Board Trusteeship to Marylea Burtt. Actually, the election went to Thelma Goodfellow.

In Huntingdon Township Burtt swayed the polls by taking 451 votes to Goodfellow's 347. However, in the final tally of the polls, which also includes Tyendinaga, Hungerford, Tweed and Deseronto, Goodfellow totalled 1323 votes to Burtt's 1298.

The birthday song was sung for the November birthdays.

We were pleased to have Bill Vankoughnet with us. He gave a talk on government accomplishments and his wishes to help us when possible. He said we should be thankful for what we have in Madoc.

We were presented with a flag and a picture of the Queen and Prince Philip.

We also received a flag from Mr. Pollock.

The bus report was given by Wilfred Forestell. There will be a bus trip to Quinte Mall, December 2nd, leaving the apartments at 9:45 and 10 o'clock from the church. The show will be Julia and Christopher Drummer.

For your support

PROPERTY ASSESSMENT

and your 1986 Municipal and School Taxes

Regional Offices located throughout Ontario are responsible for assessing all real property for the purposes of municipal and school taxation.

The resulting Assessment Rolls are delivered to municipalities which use them to set their mill rates and compute municipal property tax bills.

The amount of property tax you pay on your home or business depends on the assessed value and the mill rate set by your municipality. The assessed value multiplied by the mill rate will determine your 1986 property taxes.

Open House Sessions

Open Houses are your opportunity to fully understand your assessment and to evaluate its equity.

Open Houses are held in every municipality at convenient times and locations, to provide you with the opportunity to discuss your assessment with staff of the Regional Assessment Office.

An assessor will be pleased to explain the basis of your property assessment and is authorized to amend any information as may be necessary prior to the delivery of the Assessment Roll to your municipality.

If you have any questions but are unable to attend the Open House, please contact your Regional Assessment Office at the address or telephone number shown below.

Assessment Notice

Property owners and tenants will receive an Assessment Notice only if information regarding their property or assessment was changed during the past year, if the assessment was appealed last year, or if the property has been reassessed under section 63 of the Assessment Act. If you receive an Assessment Notice, it may reflect changes you have requested in your school support designation, in the amount of your assessed value, or other recorded information on last year's Notice.

Appeal Procedure

If, after attending your local Open House, you are still dissatisfied with your assessment, you have a right to appeal it to the Assessment Review Board. The Assessment Review Board conducts informal hearings and is responsible for determining whether the assessment under appeal is fair and equitable with the assessments of similar properties in the vicinity or neighbourhood, and may alter your assessment accordingly.

Appeal Deadline

The final date for appealing your assessment is January 7, 1986.

Your appeal must be forwarded, either on a Notice of Appeal Form or as a letter, to the Regional Registrar of the Assessment Review Board on or before January 7, 1986, noting your property address, Roll Number and the reason for the appeal.

To assist you in this regard, Notice of Appeal forms and the address of the Regional Registrar of the Assessment Review Board are available at Open Houses, your Regional Assessment Office, or your municipal office.

Petroleum sales showed a dramatic increase in 1984-85, actually overtaking the Co-op's feed business, while other categories of sales: seed, fertilizer, stores, grain store and agricultural chemicals remained similar to the previous financial period.

The Board of Directors changed only slightly at Wednesday's meeting. The organization's by-laws limit the number of terms that an individual can serve on the board. This rule excluded Joe McGrath from re-election. A newcomer, Daryl Sophia from Marmora, was elected in McGrath's place.

The new board now consists of: Ted

Foley, Maurice Goula, Ross Moorscroft, Don Martin, Jim Uens, Don Wannamaker, Ed Tobin Jr., Brian Robinson and Daryl Sophia.

Dave Little, of the Ministry of Agriculture & Food, gave a brief but thoughtful address to the meeting as its keynote speaker.

Using the best-selling book 'The Third Wave', by Alvin Toffler, as the basis for his observations, Little outlined the dramatic changes that have occurred in the farming business in this century and made some equally important predictions about agriculture in the future.

The first of the three-wave series was the world of agriculture as a means of subsistence for the great majority of mankind. The second evolved with the industrial revolution, when masses of people left the land for industrialized cities. This wave, in which agriculture has experienced tremendous growth and mechanization in order to feed millions of non-farm people, is the one which most farmers today are familiar with.

Calling the period from 1950 to 1975 the most prosperous years in North American agriculture, he pointed out that farmers could hardly lose by becoming 'bigger and better'.

However, Little told his farming audience, we are now entering the beginning of the third wave, in which technology, computerization and scientific research will have more influence on the success of farming than large acreages and bigger tractors.

NOTICE To Creditors In The Estate Of Jennie Irish

All persons having claims against the estate of Jennie Irish, late of the Township of Tudor in the County of Hastings who died on November 4, 1985, are required to file proof of same with the undersigned on or before January 1, 1986 after which date the estate will be distributed with regard only to the claims of which the undersigned shall then have notice and the undersigned will not be liable to any person of whose claim he shall not then have notice.

Dated at Marmora, Ontario, the 20th day of November, 1985
George Delbert Irish

by his solicitor

Barnster & Solicitor
Box 430,
Marmora, Ontario

He pointed to the shrinking agricultural machinery market as a symptom of this 'information age' of the future. On the farm, Little predicted that the gap between successful farmers and unsuccessful ones would widen as some adapted to the new technology faster than others.

'You can't enlarge yourself out of a financial problem anymore,' he said. 'The days when people were getting wealthy on paper are over.'

The farmer of the future will need to know every detail of his business, all the figures on paper, to succeed. There are answers to becoming profitable,' he said when referring to many farmers having trouble today. 'But we have to have more records to work on - to find out what's really going on you have to have a lot of information.'

The meeting was also addressed by Chris Martin a youth leader who attended Geneva Park as the local Co-op's representative this year. Slides were shown by Paul and Lorena Foley, who also attended educational conferences at Geneva Park last summer.

MTM Hurricanes cruise over Brighton 9-5

Wellington may have the MTM Hurricanes' number, but the Hurricanes have been doing a number on the Brighton Bruins all season.

Last Thursday's home game left one wishing there was some sort of mercy rule after two periods, as the hurricanes dropped the Bruins 9-5. The score was much closer than the game.

The Bruins, while physically large, were small in numbers and didn't have the manpower or legs to keep up the forechecking and hitting game which had been their only strong point against the Hurricanes in previous encounters.

Not only did the Bruins not keep up a physical game, they didn't even start one. Throughout the first period the puck seemed to spend most of the time either on its edge or bouncing. The Hurricanes did control it long enough to count two goals.

The first came after eight minutes of play when Tom Clement scored on the rebound from a Pete Mulroney shot. Then while the Hurricanes were shorthanded John Desjardins turned in a fine individual effort, stepping up from the defence to intercept a Brighton break-out pass and labelling one into the top corner.

Brighton ran out of gas in the second period, scrambling ineffectively as the

Less than half a minute in, Scott Foley scored from Jeff Wannamaker on a three on one.

A little later, new linemates Tom Clement and Pete Mulroney showed their effectiveness. Playing shorthanded, the two managed to keep the Brighton power play pinned in its own zone until finally Mulroney escaped with the puck and beat the Bruin netminder.

With the Hurricanes constantly pressing deep into the Bruins' zone, Brighton did get some breakaway chances, but Mike Matuszek was simply unbeatable in the Hurricane net. (So was defenceman Ryan Dewey who made two fine saves on a scramble which caught Matuszek momentarily out of position.) It was immediately after one of Matuszek's breakaway stops that the Hurricanes raced back to the other end where Scott Foley scored his second goal with assists going to defenceman Darryl Denyes and the goaltender Matuszek.

Bob Stapely tallied the Hurricanes' sixth goal at 11:39, and later Craig Nobes struck for two goals in the space of ten seconds.

The second period ended with the Hurricanes up 8-0 and the only question remaining was whether or not Matuszek would complete the shutout.

Matuszek answered that question himself less than a minute into the third when he cleared the puck onto the stick of a Brighton player who slid it back into the net before Matuszek could reposition himself. (Someone must have mentioned 'shutout' in the dressing room.)

At that point many lost interest in the game, including the Hurricanes. Applying their own mercy rule, the Hurricanes allowed Brighton to score four more goals, three of them coming in the last four minutes.

The Hurricanes' final goal was the result of a good second effort by Tom Clement who, after being stopped on a

reached back to knock in his own rebound. The final score was 9-5.

Hurricane Scott Foley was the game's first star, followed by teammate Tom Clement. Third star went to Brighton's Brent Dunk.

Next home game gets underway Tuesday December 10 at 8:30 when the Hurricanes take on the league-leading Wellington Dukes.

40th Canada Farm Show

to be biggest ever

A record number of approximately 650 exhibitors have booked exhibit space for the Canada Farm Show — the largest indoor agricultural equipment showcase in Canada.

Celebrating its 40th anniversary the 1986 Canada Farm Show is expected to attract over 70,000 visitors. The show will take place at the Coliseum in Toronto's Exhibition Place from January 28 to 31, open daily from 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM.

A new Farm Family Educational Program has arranged to take place daily, featuring maintenance and preparation of equipment, leasing versus buying. Many other educational features including cooking demonstrations will make this program

The Canada Farm Show will be the first opportunity of the year for Canadian farmers to see the vast array of equipment and products available in 1986. Among the educational will be computer companies demonstrating the latest in software and hardware for on-farm use.

The Canada Farm Show is sponsored by the Ontario Retail Farm Equipment Dealers Association and is produced and managed by Industrial Trade Shows of Canada.

Madoc Atoms win tourney

The Madoc Atoms headed by Don Bailey and Dan Nickle, travelled to Bancroft on Saturday last and came home with the 'A' Championship trophy.

Individual game stars for the three games were Brad Phillips in game one; Charlie Brownson in game two and Tim Bailey for game three. Tim had eight goals and two assists for 10 points for the three games.

Tom Burnside played in goal for the day and started the day right with a 5-0 shutout. Scott Tracey scored first at 8:04 of the first period, which proved to be the game winner. Scott had a two-goal game, as well as two assists.

Tim Bailey had two goals and one assist; Charlie Brownson had a goal and an assist; Brad Phillips had three assists with singles going to Derek Davidson and

This is the way the game ended and required six minutes and 39 seconds of overtime to decide a winner. Tim Bailey and Brad Phillips combined for this game winner.

SCOTT FOLEY of the Hurricanes winds up (left) for a shot that hit the mark in the Hurricane-Bruins game last Thursday. Later, Craig Nobes scored again at 13:38 of the second, only 10 seconds after putting the Hurricanes up 7-0 on Brighton.

Stirling Bantam Blues grab 'A' Championship

The Stirling Bantam team scored rapidly in the first few minutes of the A Championship final, Sunday Nov. 24, and went on to shut out their Marmora challengers 3-0.

The Stirling and District Lions Blues Tournament was held over the weekend at the Stirling and District Recreation Centre.

The tournament saw teams participate from Belleville, Brighton, Campbellford, King City, Madoc, Marmora, Picton, Stirling, Trenton, and Wellington.

In the Novice division, King City beat out Stirling, 6-3, to take the A Championship. Brighton defeated Picton, 4-2, to clinch the B Championship.

In the first round of action Brighton beat Picton, 7-4 and King City beat Stirling, 5-3.

In the second round King City beat Picton, 9-0, and Stirling defeated Brighton, 2-1 to take the B Championship.

In the Pee-wee division, Stirling shutout King City, 2-0 to take the A Championship. Belleville edged King City, 10-2. Second round action saw King City thump

In the Bantam division, Stirling outplayed Marmora for a 3-0 victory to claim the A Championship while Madoc clobbered Trenton, 8-2 and Stirling slip past Madoc, 6-5.

Madoc Peewees drop decision

The Pee Wee As had yet to win in exhibition play this year as they dropped a 6-0 decision to a high flying Napanee squad.

Napanee scored two in each of the three periods.

New Column

Last week, we ran a new column in the pages of our newspaper called A Different Perspective by James Alfred. We intend to run this column on a regular basis if it appears that the column is of interest to our readers, but we would like some feedback on the first few articles.

Mr. Alfred will be talking on many topics 'from a different perspective' and we think his different perspective will tend to make people think a little bit differently about his topics. We feel the column has merit and is worth being run in our newspapers, but you the readers are the ultimate judges.

Here again is a column from Mr. Alfred from a different perspective. Read it and consider what he says. If it is worthwhile and you would like to read more of his articles, drop us a line and tell us. If you don't like his articles, then also write to us and tell us why.

In any case, we will run several more of the columns to give you a chance to make a fair assessment of his topics.

Hockey: A Different Perspective

A thousand times I have escorted my boys to the hockey rink, put on their skates, watched them struggle and slowly develop their hockey skills.

The boys learned hockey and concentrated on the game. I on the other hand lived in a different world while in the same arena. First of all for sheer survival I learned to dress properly; warm boots, extra shirt, long johns and heavy gloves. I discovered which arena's had the best coffee, best hot dogs, the best wagonburgers. I made an array of new friends in each arena with whom I met and chatted in the stands.

It always amazed me how those tiny kids grew up into swift talented hockey players. It amazed the kids too. At age six they cannot conceive of wheeling around the rink with speed and precision.

One of the most valuable benefits of those years has been the time I spent with my sons. We discussed life at least twice a week as we travelled to hockey games around the country.

We discussed what is fair in hockey and used those examples to explore fairness in life. We discussed which players were better or worse so that they saw themselves in a realistic place in society. We discussed team work and placed it in a social perspective. As my youngest son nears the end of his hockey years I have a feeling of regret. An end to these years is at hand. I'll miss them. I've always admired those attentive parents who spent all that time in arenas devoted to the welfare of their children. It reflects a deep parental concern for and love of their offspring. It shows how much our society invests in our children. I like it.

Of course in every human activity there is unattractive behaviour. I am always disappointed at fans who complain about the 'refs'. It somehow perverts the idea of impartial authority and signals to the kids that the system is not fair, even for little boys playing fun hockey. I shudder when the fans (parents) vocally Cont'd to page 11A

Here is some action from the A division finals which the Campbellford Merchants won to become the A division champions.

Campbellford Merchants 'A' Champions

The Campbellford Seymour Industrial Hockey Association hosted a successful one-day men's hockey tournament at the local arena on Saturday, Nov. 23, 1985.

Eight teams participated in the tourney, coming from Frankford, Brighton, Cobourg, Campbellford (two teams), Scarborough, Kingston and Toronto.

Both Campbellford teams did well as the competition closed down to the two final games.

The 'B' Championship saw Frankford face our Campbellford Meyers team in a very close match.

The home team scored the first goal of the game, starting a see-saw battle for the title. Not until late in the second period, and early in the third, did Frankford score three straight, putting them up 5-3. Once more the scoring went back and forth.

When the final buzzer sounded, Frankford had clinched the 'B' Division title by a score of 6-3 over Meyers in a very tight game, with only five penalties handed out throughout the game.

The 'A' Division final was a very different type of game, however, as the Campbellford Merchants faced the Toronto Patriots, vying for top honors.

Again, our home team scored first, in only 51 seconds of the first period, as Gord McMillan beat the Toronto goalie on a pass from Jamie McIlmoyle. The Merchants scored again on a play set-up by Doug Watson, and scored by Terry McConnell.

Toronto came back scoring one in the third, Gamble from Wilcock, but this was all they would earn, as the Merchants scored again in the third period to clinch the game. Terry McConnell set up Paul Tillart for the score.

Winning top honors, Campbellford took home top money, $300. 'B' Division prize money of $200 was awarded to Frankford.

A Different Perspective

downgrade boys for infractions of hockey. I shake my head when loving, caring mothers incite their sons to violence.

On the other hand I smile when the boys shake hands after every game. I notice approvingly when the opposing teams converse on the ice and even congratulate each other for a fine play. The one comment which I have often heard has made me realize that many people have missed the point of hockey. The public has spent millions for local rinks. The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association has upgraded our coaches dramatically. A large percentage of our community participates to make the system work. This is a public effort, to sponsors and involve not only kids but others in the community in a social, recreational, and cultural pastime. The comment which upsets me is 'If only that boy were bigger (faster or whatever) he'd go places'. Now I ask you, 'What boy in your community has gone places? (ie. the NHL). 'What boy in your community has is different to many.

It is our culture to misunderstand the system. At least that's my perspective on hockey which is different to many.

Madoc Atoms 'do it again'

pressure and popped in the winning goal.

Way to go Tim. The excitement of that game was worth all the hours we stood in the cold hollering, 'Do it again Madoc, Do it again'. The game star was Charlie Bronson who kept on digging in and doing his share. Congratulations Charlie.

The rest of the day passed by in anticipation of Game 3, the final countdown. The boy's were up and ready to go.

The opponents were 'Oshawa', the final score of game 3 was 7-5. Tim Bailey was chosen the game star. His total points for the tournament were tops at 8 goals and 3 assists.

keeping us in the game all the way. Super stuff Tommy.

After reading this report I hope you can tell that leaving the laundry until Sunday was certainly worth it.

I'm very proud of all of our boys in the hockey club. With the support of great coaches like Don Bailey and Danny Nickle, all the fellows who faithfully support their team from the bench and all the parents who trudge (or speed) along to be there for their sons I feel confident that we are all a little smarter for having known and experienced each other.

I'm proud to be a Madoc Hockey Mom.

CDHS basketball teams in Kawartha District Championships

The CDHS midgets and juniors captured the Kawartha District A basketball championships last week in their continuing hunt for basketball supremacy at the high school level.

Last Thursday, the midgets travelled to Clarke High School where they defeated the home squad 32-22 for the victory. The coach of the midgets was justifiably proud of his squad after the victory.

We suffered early-season losses but we learned and improved so that four of our last five games resulted in victories for us.

The midgets had advanced to the Kawartha District championship the week before by defeating the same team, Clarke, 42-38. As in that game, the championship match was a closely played contest. The midgets lead in scoring at the end of the half 14-7, but that lead had been whittled down to two points part way through the second half. The CDHS girls met the challenge and, with persistent hustle and close coverage, they were able to steal some points and pull away to win by ten. As in the previous match, it was a full team effort that solidified the win.

Scoring for the locals were Wendy Godden with 15 points, Anna McMoyle and Karen Sullivan scored six points each, Michelle O'Leary and Barb Ashford collected two points each and Lynn Phillips scored one point.

This Thursday, the team travels to Courtice Secondary School to play for the Central Ontario Secondary School Championship.

JUNIORS ADVANCE

The CDHS seniors captured the Kawartha District A basketball championship with victories over Clarke and Haliburton High Schools.

The juniors got off to a good start by beating a surprisingly tough Clarke team.

At the end of the first half, the score was 9-7 for Campbellford, however, strong rebounding, solid defence and Colleen Philips aggressive rebounding and scoring pulled Campbellford to victory - one step closer to the Kawartha championship. Final score was 9-3.

Campbellford met Haliburton in game two of the round robin tournament and easily clinched the win, dominating every aspect of the game. Final score was 31-8 for CDHS.

This week, the team travels to Curtis High School for the COSSA championship against that school.

The junior basketball players are Colleen Philip, Mary Jane Lee, Tammy Chrysler, Amber Cooke, Jennifer Brahaney, Jenifer Petherick, Julia Duck, Janis O'Leary, Tanya Mongrain, Jenifer

Pirri, Trixie Taylor and Tracy Brown.

Elliot feed all scores with 11 points.

In the second game, Campbellford came up against inexperienced Haliburton team and easily 34-14. Mark Austin was high scorer of the game with 10 points.

On Saturday, November 30, the team travel to Belleville for the COSSA tournament which will be held at Algonquin College. Spectators are welcome.

Madoc Bantam B's drop two decisions

The Bantam B team played both Stirling teams this past week and could only manage one point from a 3-3 tie. In the other game they dropped a 4-1 decision to Stirling No. 2 team. Madoc's only goal came late in the second, when Greg LeSage put the puck behind the Stirling goalie. Pete Denison and Kert

In the second game, Madoc jumped into a 2-0 lead at the end of the first on goals by Kert Rosnuk from Pete Denison and Les Cassibio, and at 1:18, Mike Kehoe from Greg LeSage and Duane Rollins.

swered goals in the third to earn a 3-3 tie.

Madoc's third goal was an unassisted shot by Pete Denison. Greg LeSage leads the team with 10 goals and three assists for 13 points.

Fundamentals in action

A new concept in coaching and coaching techniques, known as Fundamentals in Action or FIA, was introduced to Madoc Minor Hockey players and coaches on Tuesday evening. This programme designed by Pat Stapleton, was introduced to Madoc by Maer Edwards, a former goaltender in the NHL, who now lives in Havelock.

This programme is co-sponsored by Pepsi Cola Limited, Canadian Tire Corporation and Budget Rent A Car, and has as its motto, learn to play and play to learn. Its main idea is to emphasize complementary skill development with maximum use of the ice. Goaltending skills are included along with development of discipline and concentration.

It was a very interesting programme for players, coaches and parents.
